HOWDY

GRADUATION

This is our game. Our objective: to move a few spaces each day — backwards or forwards — to grow, to learn, to fall, to fail, to experience, to mature.

As players in the game, we move a little further each day, only to start again with the next sunrise.

The rules are simple, but not always clear, so each player must use his past experiences to decide when and where he will make his next move.

Ready to begin, children? Good luck . . . and KEEP SMILING!

Like all FRESHMAN classes before it, the Class of '75 had a certain confusing period of adjustment — it took time to become accustomed to the routine and atmosphere of a new school. Although allowed and encouraged to attend high school activities, a slight majority (51%) did not really feel accepted as a part of the school. Surprisingly, (or maybe not) 87% would have preferred that the freshman class be included in the junior high, while 13% apparently were satisfied.

Leaving behind the days of the "nursery" and the Raiders, and all the criticisms and embarrassments of their freshman year, the SOPHOMORES finally became accepted in the high school. They were confronted with new experiences — Driver's Ed. and joining the Senior High Band and Chorus, and new freedoms — a wider range of elective courses, including Study Hall. They found themselves at an awkward age: beginning to participate in school activities, but still not receiving the acclaim of the upperclassmen. And finally, the sophomore class sold t-shirts, which read — "Pioneer '74."

Sophomore class officers seem to be up a tree. Top to bottom: Robert Chapel, president; Dyanne Williams, treasurer; Camille Frye, vice-president; Cathy Teate, secretary.

As JUNIORS, the Class of '73 took another step in their climb toward the top. Admired and looked up to by many of "those underclassmen," the juniors established themselves as a part of the high school. Here, on the third rung of the ladder, new challenges and responsibilities awaited them, among these the traditional duty of planning the Prom. Symbolic of their class spirit and school pride was the juniors' participation in pep assemblies where they showed more spirit than any of the other three classes. Their school pride was also shown by the purchase of class rings. One thought ever present in the minds of the junior class — only one more year to go!

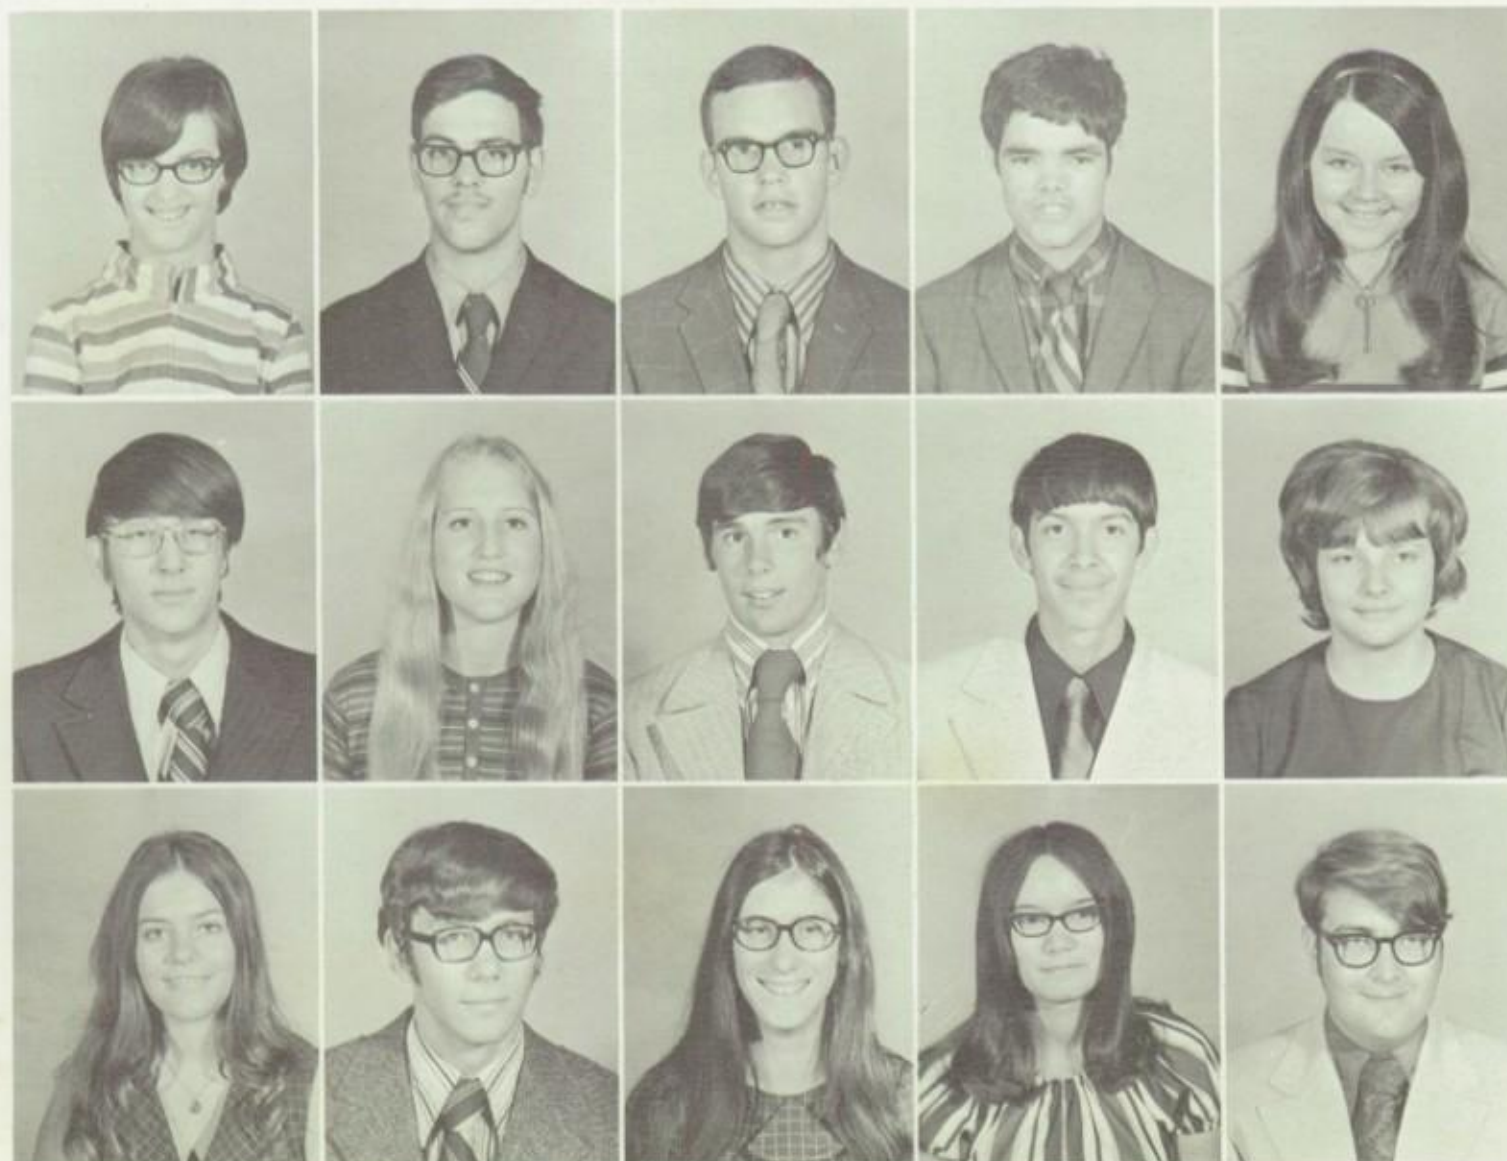

Junior class officers take a recreation break. Top to bottom: Elaine Marsh, vice-president; Tommy Grula, secretary; Johnny Jaynes, treasurer; Steve Fitzgerald, president.

How does it feel to be a SENIOR? "Just like another year but that much closer to getting out of this ultra-conservative, closed-minded clique of snobs . . . for once we are regarded as people . . . vaguely wondering what others think of you, but not caring enough to be swayed from a self-made decision . . . anticlimactic . . . the underclassmen are being disillusioned . . . afraid of the future . . . making the most of my time here . . . never done or been anything so boring in my whole life . . . sad to leave friends behind . . . what a farce . . . a feeling of power . . . this 'senior business' is a hangover from the days of bobby sox and rah rah rah."

Dear Charla,
Can you believe it's been fun years over? I've been being in band with you & going to all the contests. Have a good summer. Good luck always.
Love,
Vickie Lane

Dear Charla
You are a real sweet person.
Stay that way.
I'm Love

Charla,
It's been nice cutting class with you. I hope we can have a few more together next year.

Charla,
It's been a great year for you this year. You were a big sophomore!
I wish you all the best in the world and thank you for all the fun. I've enjoyed truly have enjoyed teaching you.
Love,

Let's Play

VARSITY FOOTBALL — 6 and 4 — a good record, but it doesn't begin to describe the heartbreak of missing the state playoffs for the first time in eleven years; nor does it express the devilish pleasure after "barbequing" the Ponca City Wildcats. It doesn't describe long hours of hard practice, trying to make the wishbone offense a reality. But most of all, it can't express the dedication, and disappointment of a season that "might have been . . ."

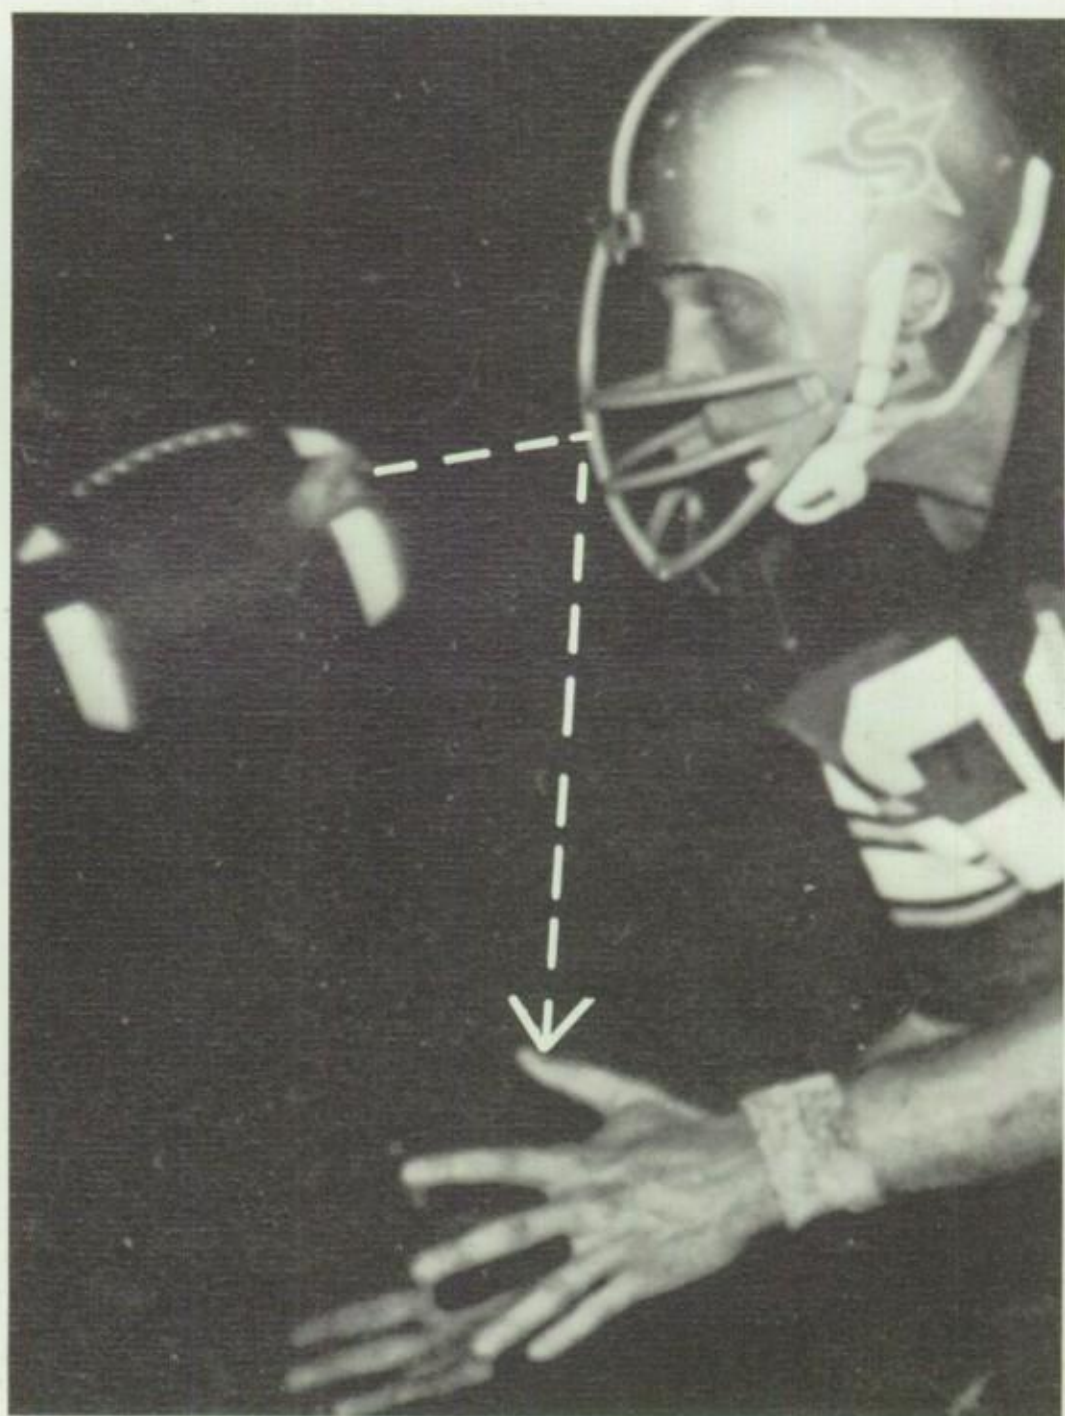

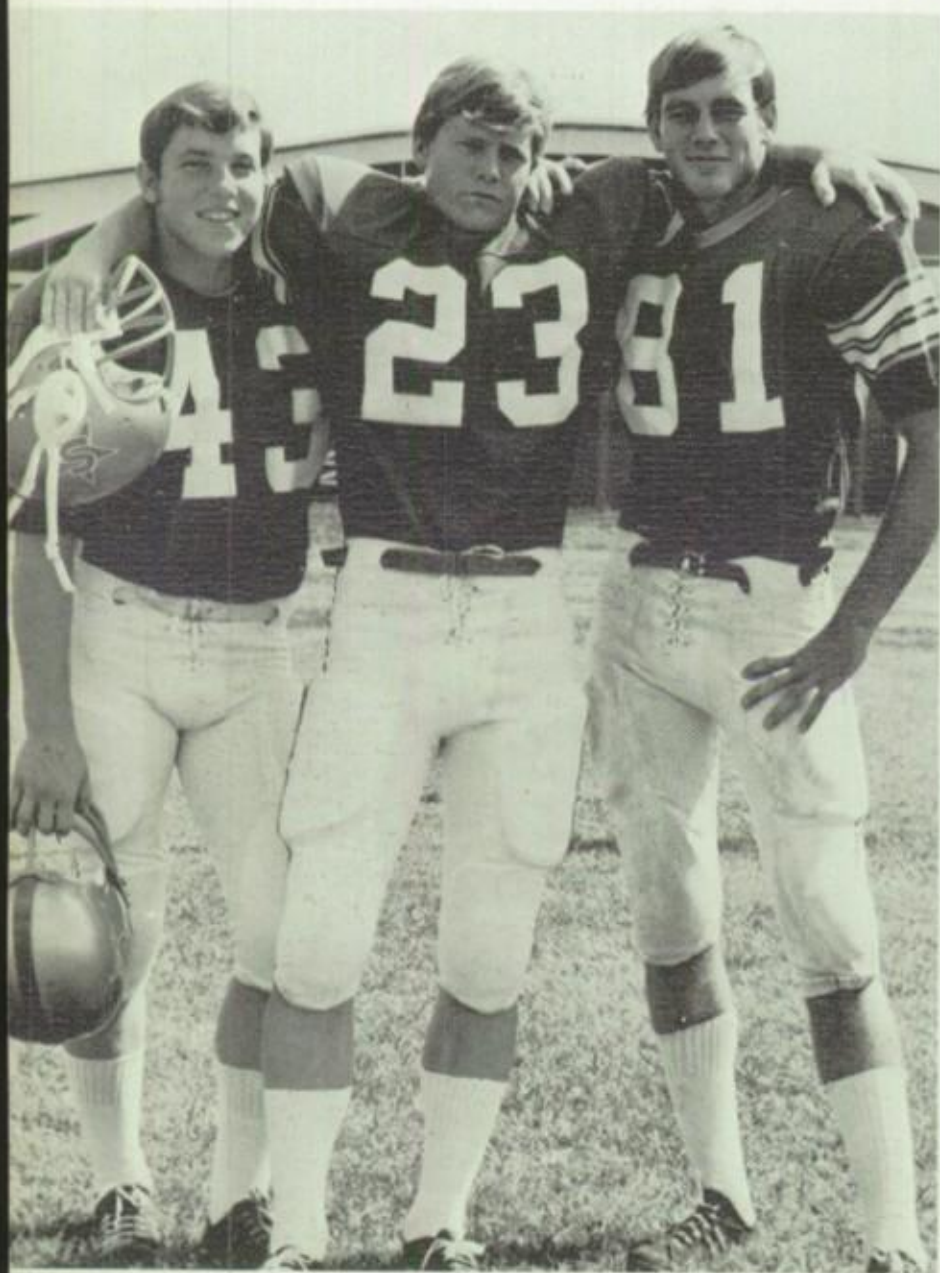

Sitting: T. DeMoss, R. Mickle, H. Thomas, D. Mastin, K. Bastemeyer, N. Jenkins, B. Newcomer, J. Reynolds, A. Hybsha, T. Demaree, B. Davis, J. Ward, Shipman. Kneeling: S. Ahring, F. Wyatt, D. The Pioneer footballers spun off to a bad start in the opening game of the season as DHS fell 14-10 to the Enid Plainsmen. The Pioneers' only touchdown came in the first half when they retrieved Enid's fumble on their own one yard line.

It took only a week for the Pioneers to recover from their loss as they buried Cushing, 33-0. Sophomore Rocky Deal scored four TDs in the contest.

A second foe fell the next week at Ponca City. On a slippery field, DHS blanked the Wildcats, 14-10. The Pioneers played the first of three home games in a row against Blackwell. Shorthanded and overpowered, the Maroons bowed to the Pioneers, 46-12.

The homecoming guests were the Shawnee Wolves. The Pioneers were in control for all but two minutes of the tension filled battle. In the last two minutes, Shawnee drove the length of the field to score and defeat the Pioneers, 13-10.

Now the Pioneer record stood 3-2 as they went to battle with Clinton at Hamilton Field. Vengeance might have been in the team's mind as they blasted the Tornadoes, 34-6. Hitting the road for the first time in three weeks, SHS visited Cascia Hall. The Pioneers blanked the Tulsans, 26-0. All hopes for a shot at the state title went down the drain at Hamilton Field the following week. The Bartlesville Collegians defeated Stillwater, 19-7.

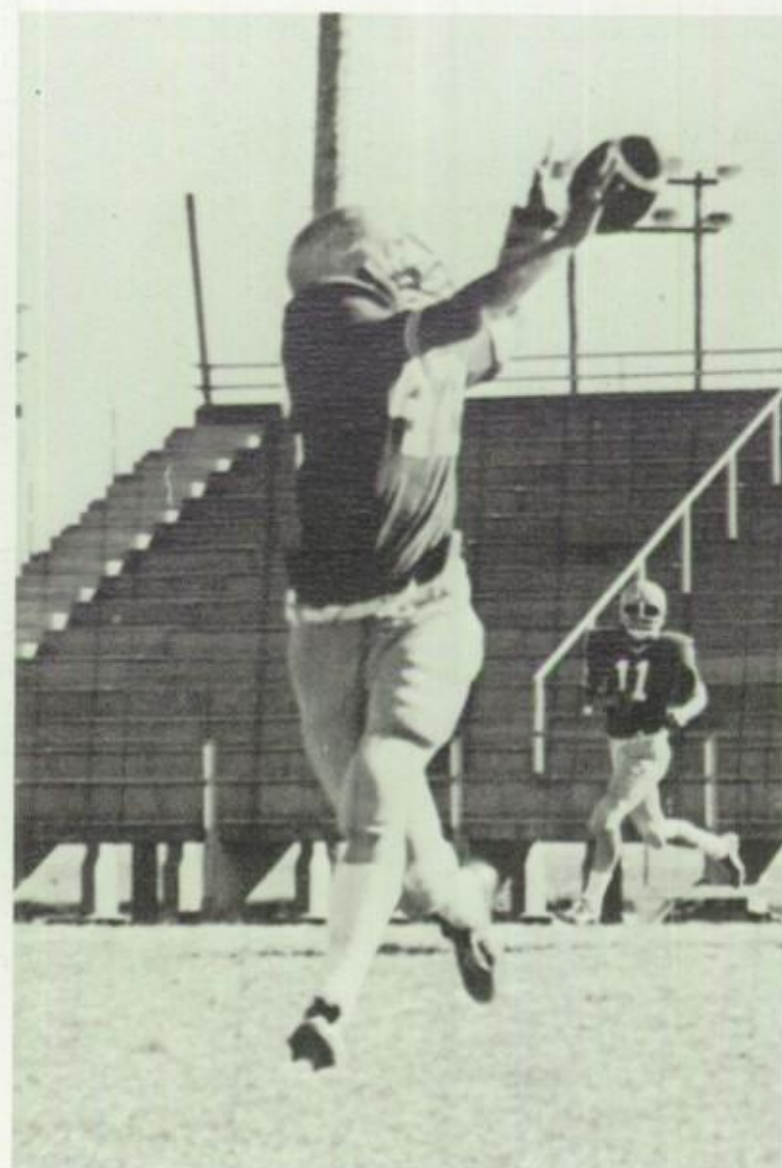

A very tight game was played the next week against Bartlesville Sooner. In the fourth quarter, a Pioneer punt was blocked, and resulted in a safety for Sooner making the final score 2-0.

The Pioneers' last game of the season was played at Sapulpa. After running to a 21-0 halftime lead, SHS had to hold on in the second half to nip the Chieftains, 21-15.

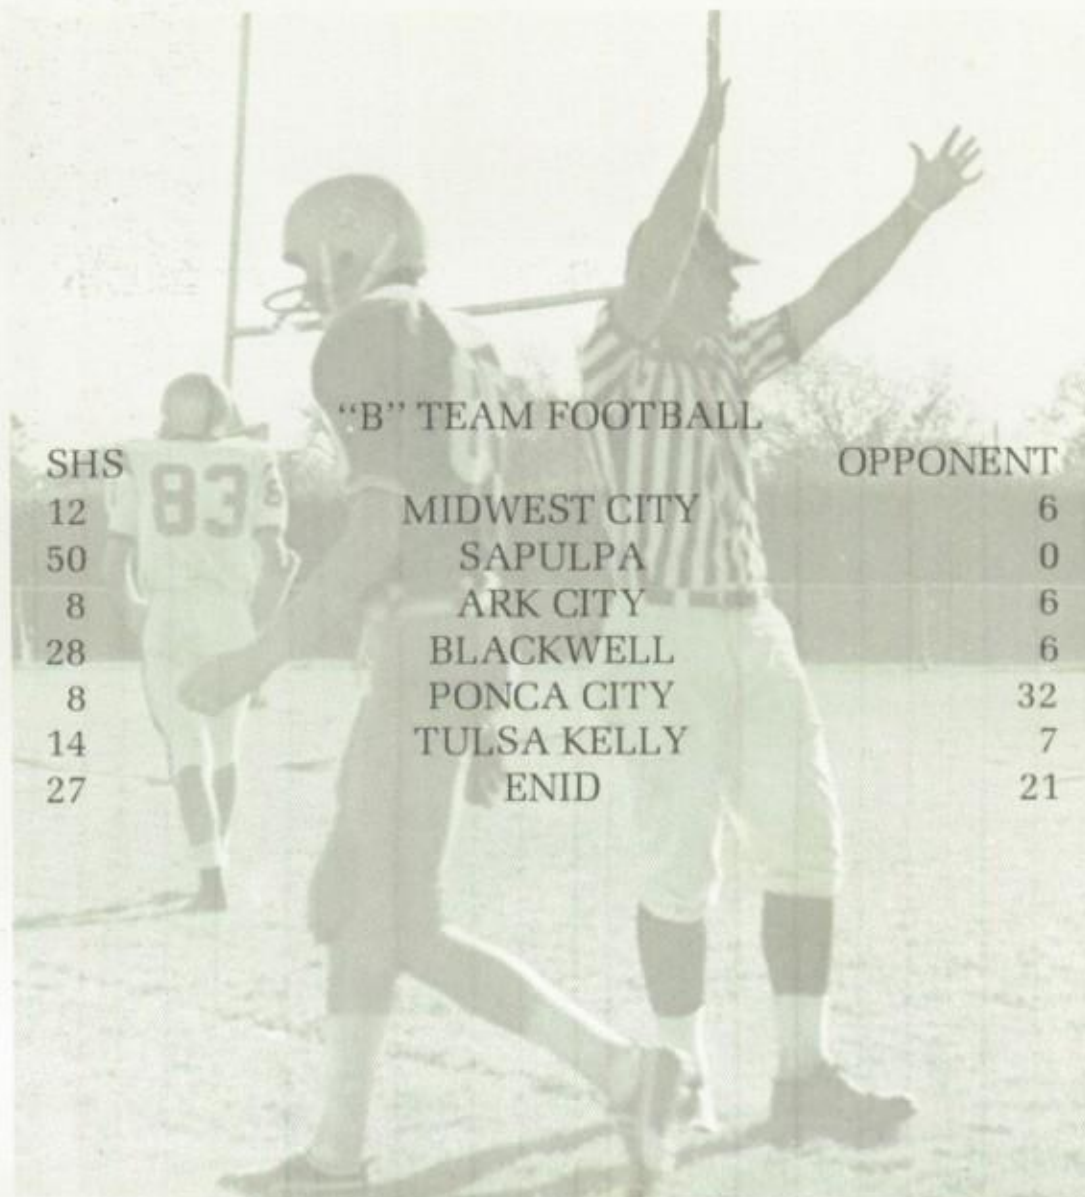

"B" TEAM FOOTBALL — A group of sophomores and juniors playing football with practically no support — but plenty of pride. The junior varsity finished the season with a record of 6-1, their only loss coming from a strong Ponca City team. These seven games gave them plenty of experience on the gridiron, helping them to prepare for next year.

Number 12, Frank Wyatt, lets go a pass downfield. Rick Fagan (24) and another Boomer provide pass blocking.

Ken Bastemeyer (42) stretches for a pass during a "JV" football game. Danny White (11) is shown in the background.

RAIDERS — A group of individuals with great potential, but hard luck — three key injuries and heartbreaking losses. "Grind-em out" runners, weak tackles, and a strong secondary laced with high spirits, produced a 3-5 record this year. Several players, though, did show the promise of being valuable members of the varsity team in the future.

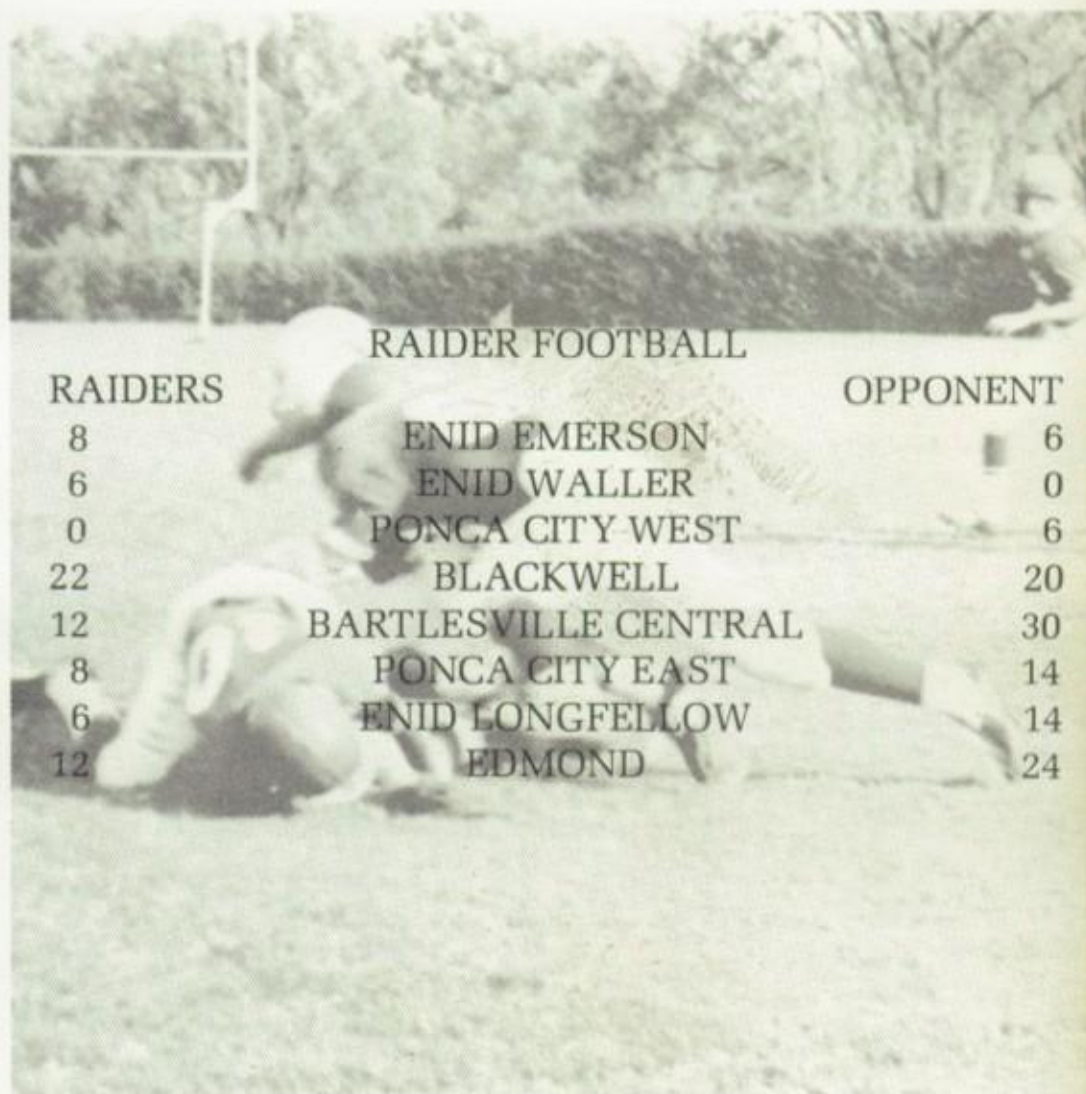

Eying his prospects is Coach Gerald Mastin.

"Hey Hueby, what's the next cheer?"

"I wanna announce the skit. Can I please?"

"Come on it's 8:30 I wanna go home. I've got eggs and milk out in the car."

Did you ever wonder what goes on at cheerleading practice? "Mass confusion. Mass confusion and organization (?)," according to Nancy Nichols, member of the varsity cheerleading squad. A new system established this year incorporated two squads of five girls each, called the varsity and junior varsity squads. They worked with the PEP CLUB to raise school spirit and support the boys in all athletic events. Members of this organization spent much of their time decorating the halls, providing treats for team members on game days, organizing assemblies, skits, bake sales, send-offs for the teams, attending games, and yelling.

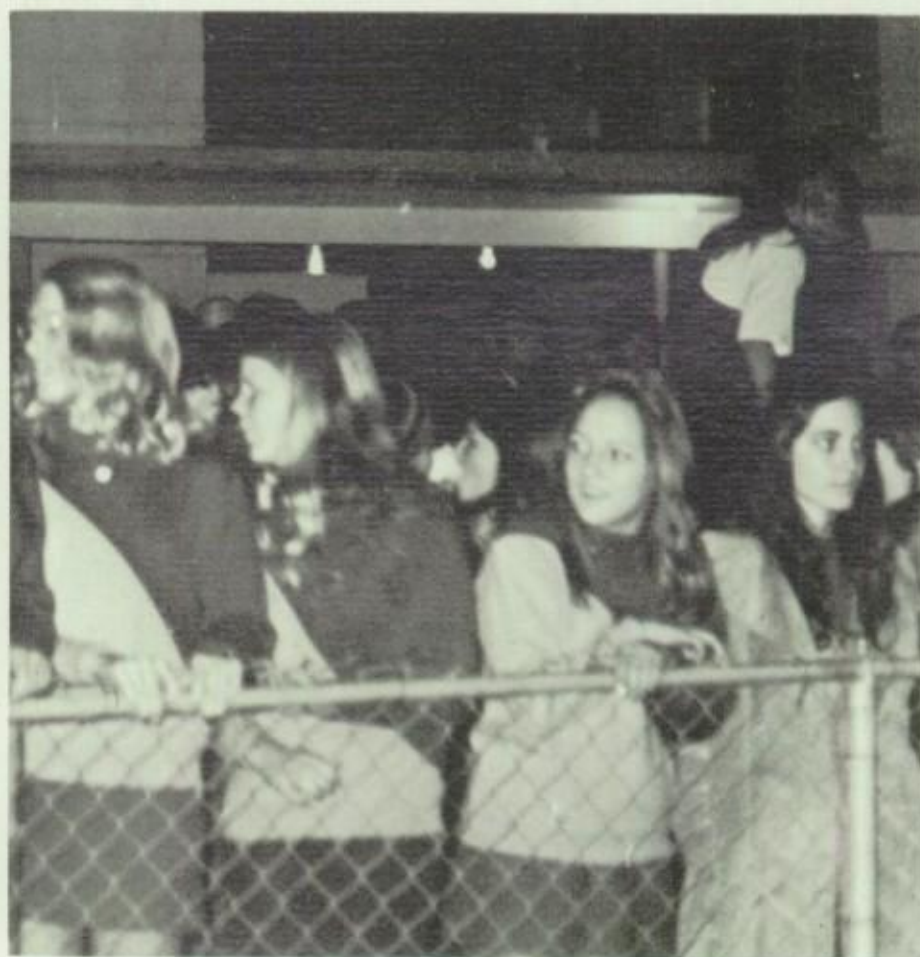

"Then we'll do a competition cheer. Which one?"

We have 20 million to choose from! Hey — I know! How about Battle Cry?"

GUESS WHO?

The long-time tradition of CLASS ROYALTY was continued this year, but a slight change was made: the winners were not formally announced until the annual came out. There are no specific requirements for this award, nor are there any duties or responsibilities for Class Royalty. They are simply eight people chosen for this honor because they are well-liked by their classmates.

Royalty: Freshman — Kenny Field, Darla Totusek, Sophomore — Deirdre Maddox, Danny White, Junior — Jan Stroup, Kevin Conway, Senior — Theresa Roy, Tony Hobbs.

Charla,
 Band was fun this year, but it also was alot of hard work
 I think you are so nice. I hope you take Band again next year.

From the Tiboneist

The outstanding music department of C.E. Donart was again in evidence, this time by its participation at ALL-STATE. Twenty-five of the 240 All-State Chorus members were juniors and seniors from our school, chosen on the basis of a single audition. They were asked to sing a familiar song unaccompanied to judge their pitch, tone and basic vocal ability, as well as several sightreading and tonal memory exercises. Band and orchestra members submitted unedited tapes of themselves playing one required song for selection. Because of the huge number of band contestants, finalists were chosen who then auditioned at state level. All-State sessions were held January 27-29 in Oklahoma City, but thanks to Mother Nature (an icestorm and a flu epidemic) only half of the delegates were able to attend.

All-State Orchestra: Deirdre Maddox, Maryann Mickle, Monica Heid, Sara Muller.

All-State Band: Laura Todd and Donna Farmer.

The DAUGHTERS OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION GOOD CITIZENSHIP AWARD

recipients are senior girls chosen on the basis of scholarship, service, leadership, and patriotism. The girls attend the January DAR meeting to receive their awards — a check and a medal for the winner, and certificates for the runners-up.

During the football season, players of various teams are observed by high school and college coaches and sports writers. Based on their opinions, the Tulsa World chooses an ALL-STATE FOOTBALL team, represented this year by Britt Davis and Chavez Linzy, alternate.

DAR Good Citizenship Alternates: Nancy Nelson and Marsha Steincamp.

All-State Football: Eric Wagner, Britt Davis, Chavez Linzy — alternate.

DAR Good Citizenship Award Winner: Kerry Fisher.

Outstanding scores on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test earned four C.E. Donart seniors the honor of being named NATIONAL MERIT SEMIFINALISTS. Throughout the year, these students received letters and scholarship opportunities from various colleges and universities across the United States.

National Merit Semifinalists: Nancy Nelson, Patty Griffith, John Bush, Bruce Converse.

GIRLS' STATE and BOYS' STATE delegates are outstanding students who participate actively in school organizations, excel scholastically, and display qualities of good citizenship and leadership. Although the system for choosing the delegates varies, the two honors and their duties are basically the same. Boys' State delegates and alternates are chosen by the American Legion after being recommended by teachers, while any junior girl interested may fill out a questionnaire. Girls' State delegates and alternates are then chosen on the basis of the information supplied and previous knowledge about the girls. Boys' State and Girls' State sessions are held for one week, at OSU and Ada, respectively, during the summer preceding the delegates' senior year. Using the imaginary Boomer and Sooner parties, they are elected to various positions on the city, county, and state level to learn the functions of the government and the importance of patriotism.

Girls' State Delegates: Mary Berkenbile, Sheri Laughlin, Frances Fitzgerald.

Each month teachers are asked to nominate academically outstanding senior boys to represent the various aspects of high school, including sports, music, math, science, and vocational agriculture. From these nominees, two BOY ROTARIANS and one BOY LION are chosen for each month. These boys attend the meetings of the Rotary or Lions Club, respectively, during that month to give reports on current activities around the school.

Boy Rotarians: Little Boy, Dale Trompler, Kenny Thomas, Steve Hall, Steve Kamm, Harley Thomas, Breen Newcomer, Darrell Mastin, Gary Platt, Gary Taggart, Arliss Jordan, Bob Von Gunten, Michael Ward.

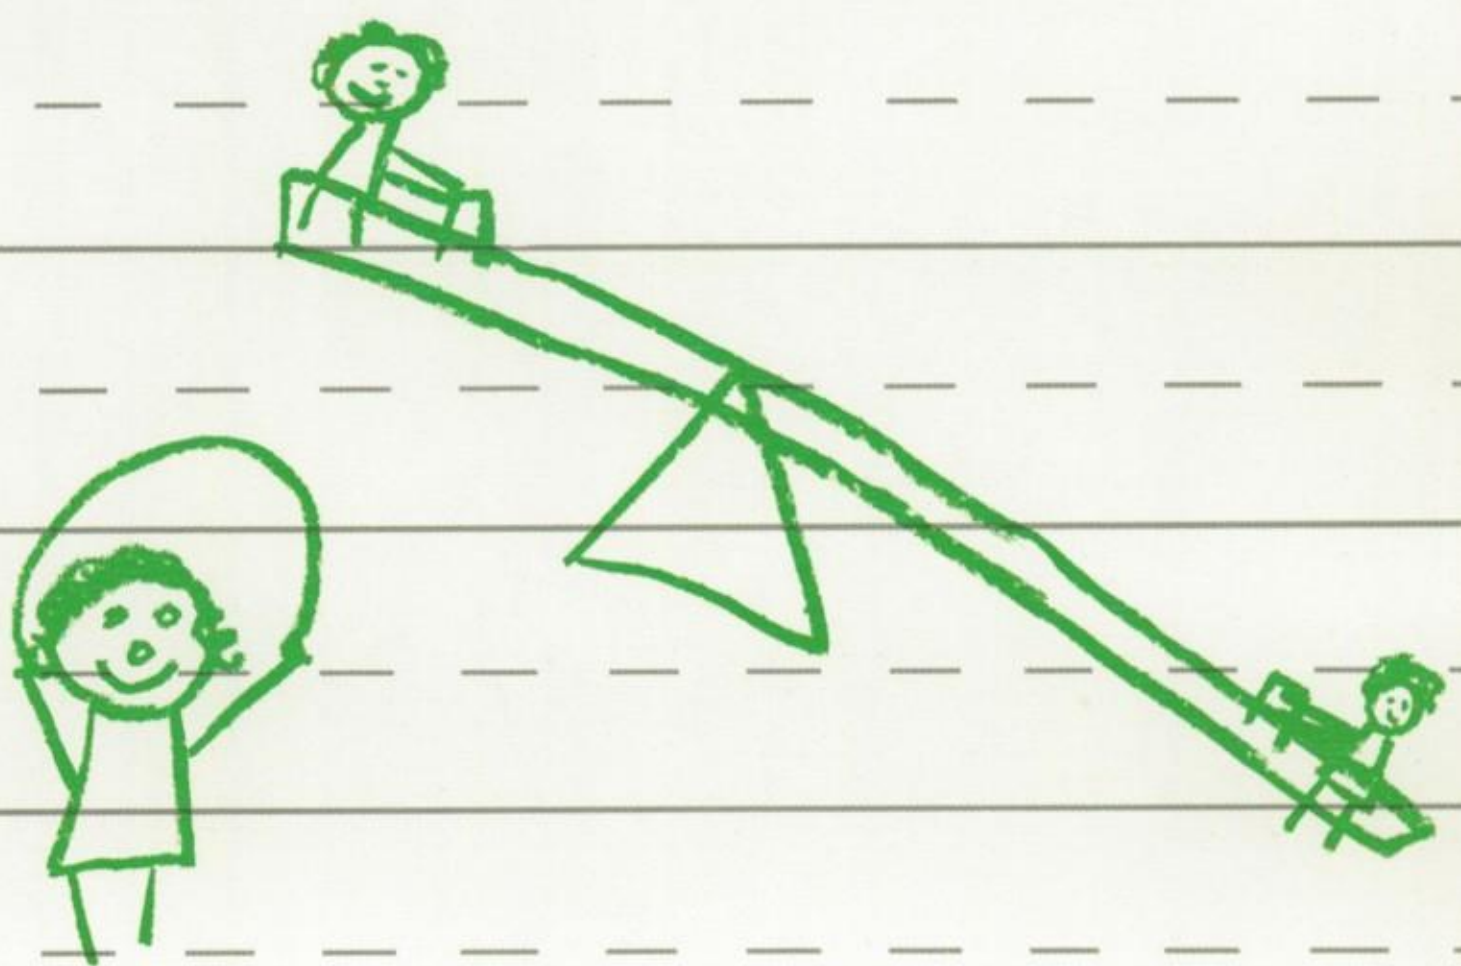

B&PW Girls — On Railing: Amy Henderson, Jana Loper, Kathy Goff, Gayla McGlamery, Barbara Von Gunten, Shelley Sanders, Lynnette Campbell, On Ground: Janeil Pennington, Linda Shissler.

What is a BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMEN'S GIRL OF THE MONTH? A senior girl who is not often recognized; a girl who possesses outstanding qualities in citizenship, scholastic or fine arts ability, and personality. To choose nine such qualified girls, teachers of classes containing primarily seniors list several, and the votes are tallied. Each girl goes to one dinner meeting of the B & PW where she tells about herself and current happenings around the school.

Charla,
Hi! It's been a pretty good year
all except for first hour.
I didn't enjoy band at all this year. The band trips didn't even help. I hope next year is better for the sake of everybody taking band even the 1st hour. Be good and we'll see ya round.
Kinda good there

 Stephen L. Maison. While learning full appreciation and an understanding of music, the CONCERT experiences, both new and old. The year's activities included a trip to Galveston, participation in

 "Carousel," Christmas
 caroling, concerts, and the

 it was state honor choir.

This seems to be a familiar pose of members of Concert Choir.

What is MADRIGAL? Feeling like maybe you sing better than you thought you did, entertaining at dinners and meetings, singing new and popular music, buying and making uniforms, using microphones for the first time, feeling like maybe you don't sing as well as you thought, learning more about music, participating in "Carousel," Christmas caroling four times in five days, "to the van, to the van," 19 people packed in a van, approximately 25-30 performances outside of school, district and state contests, parties, and many memories to treasure (or live down).

"Up in the air Junior Birdmen, up in the air flying high . . ."
 These famous words floated harmoniously out of the mouths of 25 LA MUSICA members in a skit presented for the school in a pep assembly. Throughout the year the musically inclined members were entertained by various groups and speakers, including Madrigal and John Convertino, who explained the importance of music through his personal experiences. Christmas caroling and a party afterwards was one of the highlights of the year.

"They come in 20 and 40 pound boxes, costing $3.50 and $6. Would you like to buy some?"

Among the activities of MIXED CHORUS this year were the third annual citrus fruit sale, and the selling of tickets for "Carousel". The money that they and Concert Choir earned helped to finance the various functions of the vocal music department. The mixed chorus also took trips to district and state contests in the spring, and participated in "Carousel".

The only real requirement for membership in the BAND is that one play a woodwind, brass, or percussion instrument — but there is much more to it than that, as any band member knows all too well. Never-ending hours of practice, trampling rhythmically through dew-laden grass on frosty mornings while everyone else is snug in their warm beds, and displaying their school spirit by playing at football games when it seems like it's 20 below zero, are some of the sacrifices that go into the making of the Band. Among their activities this year, the band returned with honors from district and state marching and concert contests, and promoted spirit in pep assemblies.

Susan Gish — freshman band majorette

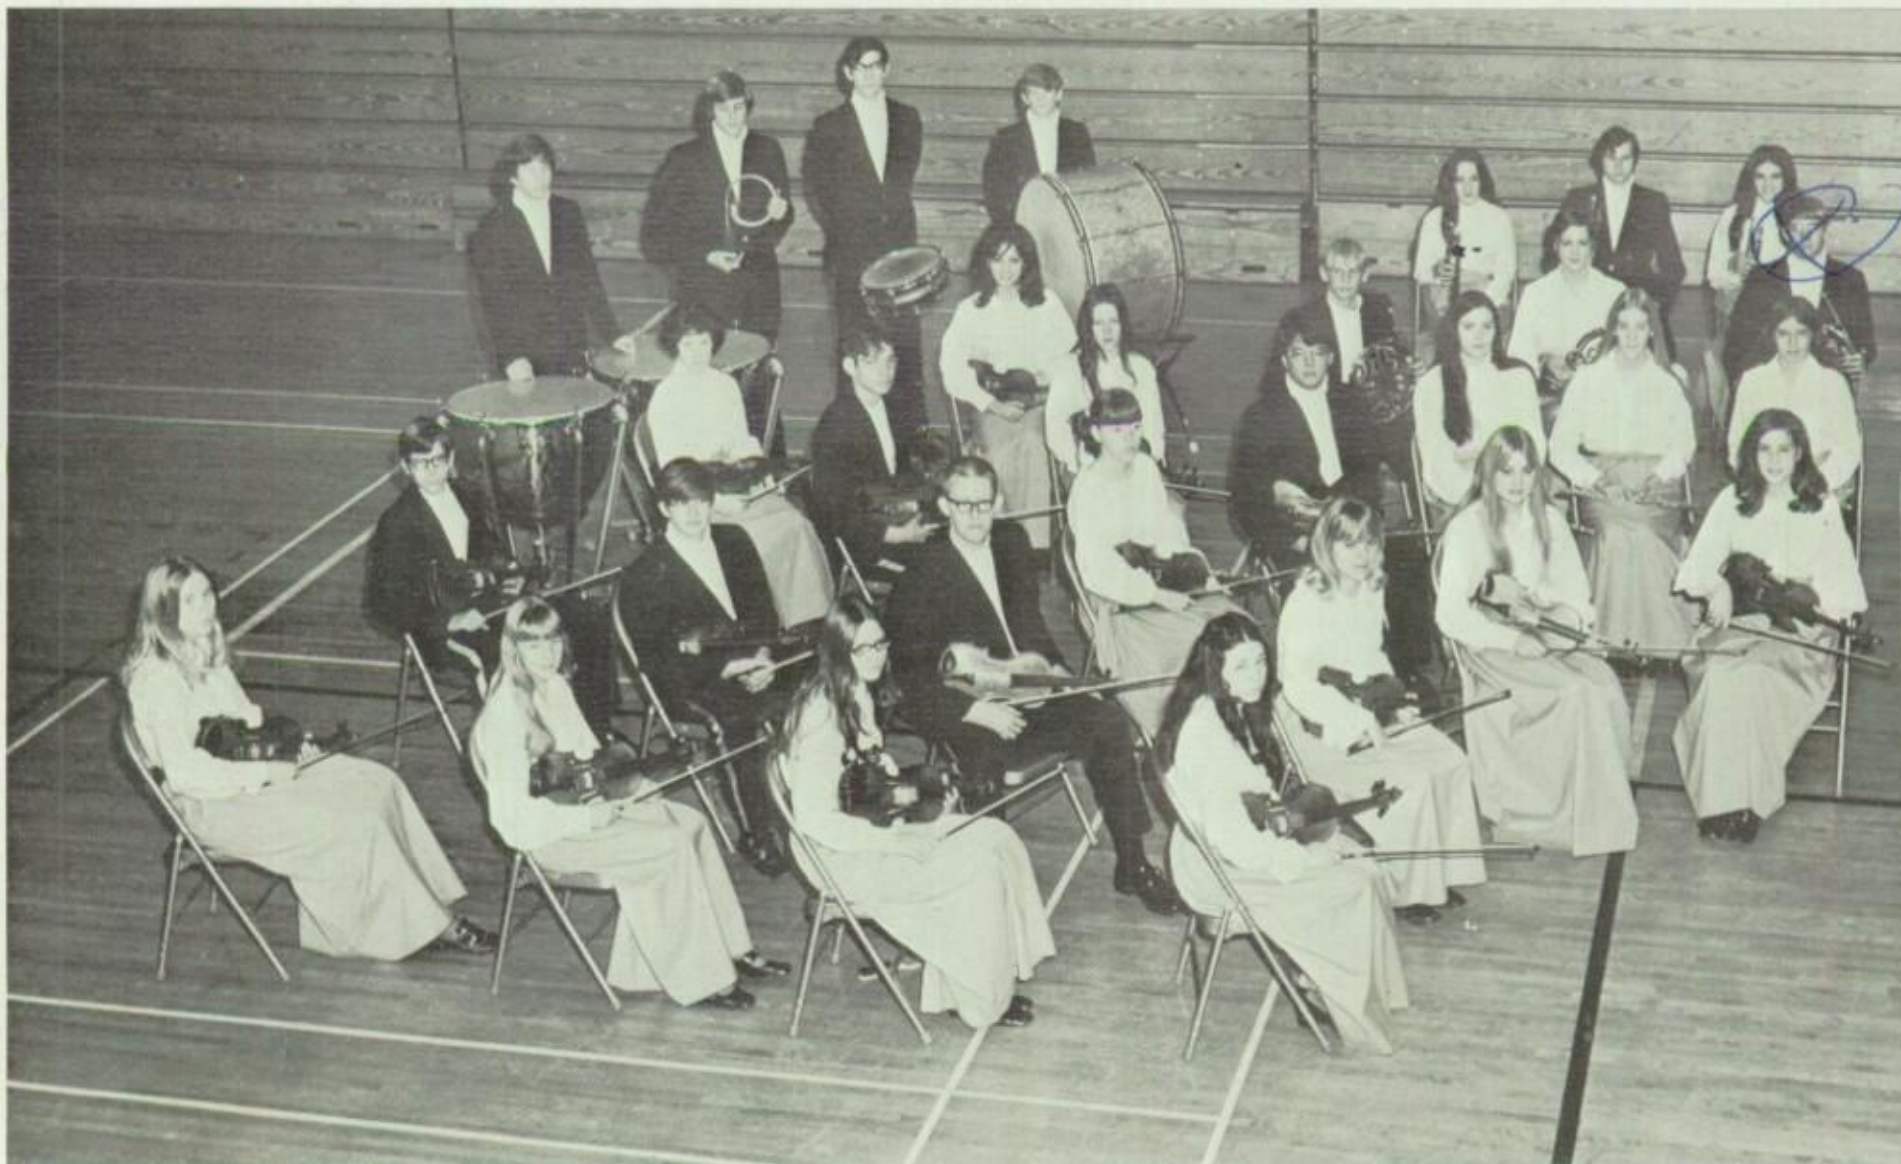

"One, two, ready, play" is a cry heard many times by members of the FRESHMAN BAND throughout the year. Although denied some privileges of the high school band, they were kept active. They helped to arouse spirit and freshman pride at Raider football and basketball games, spent long hours working up march routines, concert programs, and contest selections, and participated in many contests, including district, state, and Tri-State. The year spent in the freshman band prepared its members for even harder work in the high school band.

"One-two-three-four, Two-two three-four, Three-two three-four" — counting 40 measures of rests while patiently awaiting your only two notes in the entire symphony. This year the ORCHESTRA collaborated with the vocal music department to present the musical "Carousel" and gave an outstanding performance in the Christmas assembly, both alone and accompanying the various choirs.

They provided the program at the Varsity Scholars banquet and held a spaghetti supper in the spring to cover the expenses involved in the orchestra's functioning.

Projecting your voice, learning lines, changing sets, makeup all went into the THESPIANS' production of Bel Kaufman's "Up the Down Staircase," one of the two plays with tryouts open to the entire student body. Many members also presented plays and speeches at qualifying tournaments as well as here at school. How do you join? In order to be initiated a person must acquire 10 pts. through participation in plays, skits and assemblies — a system developed by the International Thespian Society.

“If you're going to be that way about it, I'm leaving!”

“Sorry, fellas, I think I'm going to be busy tonight!”

“Nobody talks about my mother like that and gets away with it!”

ART provides experiences that develop the student's ability to see, perceive, explore, understand, and produce art creatively. Art classes encourage students to open their eyes a little wider to see the world around them and to relate to this world through their art. They took field trips to local art shows and to the annual Young Talent Show in Oklahoma City this year, and entered their work in the show. Student art was displayed in the Board of Education Building and at the high school in the spring.

"You ought to be in pictures . . ." was sung throughout the year by students enrolled in Dick Crosley's TV classes. By producing tapes, which many times spotlighted members of the student body, these students offered a great service to teachers, the school board studio, and surrounding schools. But most important, it was a tremendous learning experience which also proved to be a lot of fun.

"Scene 2 . . . Take 635 . . . Let's get it right this time!"

"I beg to differ . . ."

"Hey scurve, go tell that girl you love her."

"Recite the menu, I mean sing it!"

"Who do you think you are, scurve? You walk behind me!"

"All right, scurve, bend over. I want to sign your letter."

Thus begins the life of an S CLUB member — first a lowly scurve, a second class citizen whose main purpose is to serve S Club members. For a week he is subjected to all kinds of chores, ridicule, and embarrassment. Finally, he reaches his goal and is initiated into this noble organization — but he must continue to participate in the school's competitive athletic program. With their sponsor Tom Turvey, S. Club sold Christmas wrapping paper as an annual fund-raising project.

"What? The freshmen beat the sophomores? What about the juniors and seniors?" Due to a dispute over powderpuff football rules, there was a lack of junior and senior representation in the membership of the GIRLS' RECREATION ASSOCIATION this year. In the first game of its kind, the freshmen slipped past the sophomores in a narrow 24-22 win. King Gary was crowned and boy cheerleaders entertained the audience. Other activities of GRA, sponsored by Phyllis Doty, included basketball, volleyball, softball, tennis, badminton, and the annual Hillbilly Stomp in the spring.

"Hi, guys!"

"Are they selling donuts today?"

"Yes!"

"Thank heavens, I'm dying of hunger!"

Members of FELLOWSHIP of CHRISTIAN ATHLETES saved the lives of countless starving students (besides raising money) this year by selling donuts during the third hour break several days a week. Other activities of FCA and their sponsors, Gerald Mastin, Dan Jack, and Virgil Nichols, included attending the State FCA conference at OU and the Weekend of Champions at Bartlesville. Plans were made to send the most active FCA members to Summer Conference in either Estes Park, Colorado, or Black Mountain, North Carolina.

Formerly and appropriately known as the "Grand Stand Boozers," this boys' pep club strives to promote spirit at all sports events through such chants as "Watermelon, watermelon, watermelon rind — look at the scoreboard and see who's behind. "Shut up Denum, that's five more cents!" A new system of fining members for misconduct was tried and found totally ineffective at FRENCH CLUB meetings this year. But that was the only failure for Le Cercle Francais. There was a question of what to do with two tons of orange rice left over from the French-Russian Club exchange dinner in December, and how to raise enough money to take a trip to OU in the Spring to see "Le Barbier de Seville," With the help of Mesdames Benharbit and Desbien, such problems were solved, and plans were formulated for a Stillwater clean-up, a hayrack ride, and an ice cream party in the fall.

"Los Bigotes de Don Quixote" was the official name this year for SPANISH CLUB. Besides choosing a new name, members held monthly dinner meetings with Señora Stockton to plan special activities, including an Environment Day poster contest and a Stillwater clean-up with the French and Russian clubs in October. Spanish Club also participated in Earth Day and crowned the queen at the traditional Spanish Fiesta in the spring. But what does "Los Bigotes de Don Quixote" mean? The Mustache of Don Quixote, of course!

 This cry began both the bike race and the year's activities for the NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY. National Honor members (the top 5% of the junior class and the top 10% of the senior class), with the help of their sponsor, Richard Lampe, planned an unusual list of activities, which included renting old movies and showing them at school in the evenings. would. A fifth semester of math completed or presently enrolled in is required, and a 3.0 grade average in math courses and a 3.0 overall. Highlights of the year were trips to the Kirkpatrick Planetarium, the OSU Computer Center, and a special "Lady Luck" mock casino set up to demonstrate the process of probability. With Pamela Keys, the group sponsored a short basic computer course this year.

Quit playing with your toys, boys, it's time for class.

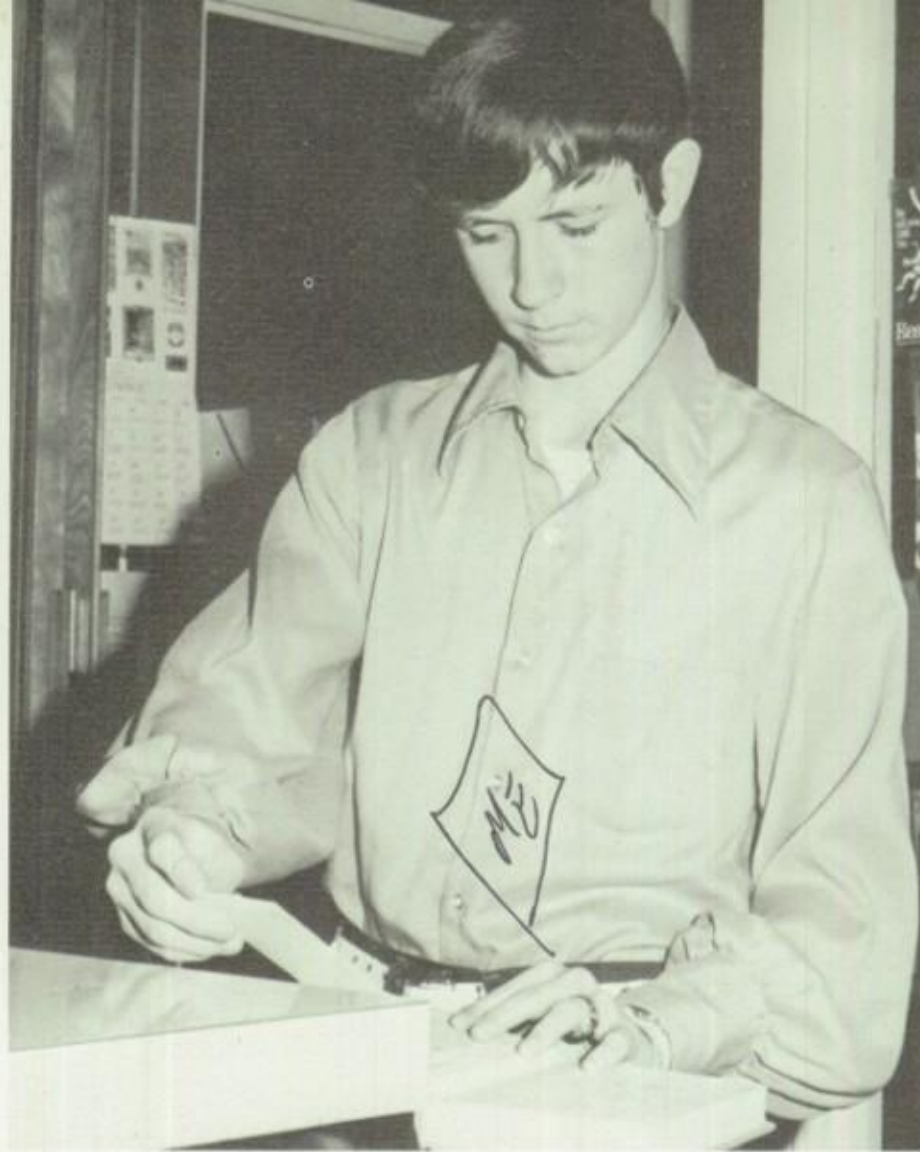

We all talk about ecology, but how many of us do anything about it? The key to doing things is learning what has to be done. This is only one of the interesting aspects of SCIENCE CLUB. This year the club visited the Great Salt Plains, Little Sahara, and the Alabaster Caverns, to learn more about nature and its laws. In addition to these field trips, the club invited guest speakers and showed films covering a wide range of subjects. So many of us know so little about things that affect us every day . . . Science Club members know that learning about them can be both beneficial and exciting.

“To explore the cultural heritage” and “to promote the cultural enrichment” of the black man, and “to create a more functional relationship with administration and student body on the C.E. Donart High School campus” are some of the purposes of the AFRO-AMERICAN SOCIETY. In its first year of existence at C.E. Donart this organization and its sponsor, Willard Dallas, tried to improve the relationships between black students and other members of the school community through discussions and activities such as Black Heritage Week. In an environment of communication and unity (all black students of C.E. Donart belong to this organization) the students were able to discuss their problems and search for lasting solutions.

At first glance, one might have mistaken this year's FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS of AMERICA for some type of Women's Lib group. Although membership was open to both sexes the club failed to have a single male member, which is rather interesting, considering one traditionally associates men, and not women, with the business world. The FBLA girls did not let this slow them down. Members of the organization gave a fashion show, attended the FBLA Leadership Orientation and the state convention — a fairly busy year. So come on boys — why not join next year?

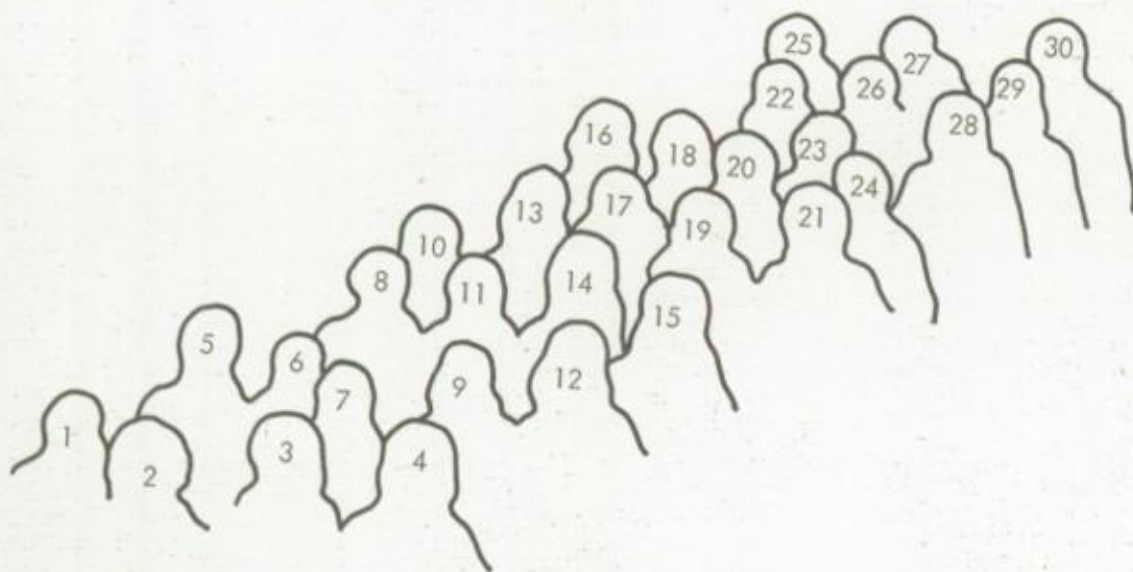

Busy, busy, busy — Gay Reuter and friends play office.

How do you get a job?
How do you keep your job once you have it?

Students in COOPERATIVE VOCATIONAL EDUCATION learn the answers to these questions as well as gaining first-hand experience on the job. Students in this new class earn credit and money from their jobs, no matter what type of work they do. Their class training lets them in on the secrets of being a good employee and the benefits gained from this. CVE also undertook several class projects this year including the rejuvenation of toys for needy children at Christmas time.

If you'd like to be in a class where you can apply what you've learned immediately you'd enjoy DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION. Students in this course have the opportunity to alternate an hour of class with on-the-job-training. Among this year's activities included the DECA Ball and the State and National Leadership Conferences. At these conferences the students were able to meet other DECA participants to benefit from their experiences and get a broader perspective concerning marketing, retailing, and distribution.

D.E. officers set up a mass production line and made their own uniforms.

And what do you want for Christmas, little girl?

For anyone who believes the Stillwater FUTURE FARMERS of AMERICA is just another one of "those organizations" that you pay fifty cents to join so you can get your picture in the annual and go to a meeting every other month, read on brother — you've got a lot to learn. This year the members of FFA participated in over thirty activities ranging from the Muskogee State Fair to the National Western Livestock Show in Denver.

To add to the feathers in their cap the Stillwater FFA was the only chapter in the nation to have three state champion judging teams to represent their state at the National FFA Convention at Kansas City, Mo. One would need a full page to list the numerous activities the FFA participated in and the honors they received this year. High praises to the individuals who have dedicated so much time and effort to make the Stillwater FFA chapter one of the best in the nation!

How do hot brownies fresh from the oven sound right now? How about saving the money you might have spent on this year's new winter coat by making it yourself? This is what FUTURE HOMEMAKERS of AMERICA do throughout the year. This year, through combined efforts, members presented "Ecology on Broadway," a style show featuring their own fashions, and a mother-daughter salad supper. FHA girls have gotten away from the TV dinners and complete wardrobes of ready-made clothes and down to the long-lost basics.

Models in the December fashion show, "Ecology on Broadway", included Fifi, LaVelda Murray, Paula McMenis, and Carolyn Lamb.

LaNita Stanley and Mary Seelig consider buying a box of Sparkle Sticks candy.

The officers find decisions hard to make when it comes to planning menus.

Members and their mothers sampled a wide variety of salads at a dinner in October.

Think of the feeling of accomplishment you'd have after completing a house during school. This is what members of VOCATIONAL INDUSTRIAL CLUBS of AMERICA did during three hours of each school day. Along with building a house, VICA members also went to a district meeting in Drumright and took several other field trips this year. Through their efforts, VICA members have gained a valuable experience that will probably lead them to carpentry-related occupations.

Criticism, criticism, and more criticism. This might have been the key word this year in referring to the STUDENT COUNCIL. It was generally criticized for their lack of effectiveness by much of the student body, and at times, by a few members of the faculty.

To counteract the criticism the Student Council members passed a more liberal dress code, organized activities throughout the year, such as a Christmas party and Spring Fling, and provided some interesting speakers for assemblies. As one would imagine, controversial issues and criticism resulted in many hard feelings, but seemingly for a worthwhile cause. Because, as a result of the controversy the student body listened, discussed, and became involved. But of more importance the Student Council listened, discussed, and got results — a big step in the right direction.

Harley Thomas takes advantage of the new dress code.

The year is 1873. The place is the New England coast. Sailors and their girlfriends or wives, children, teenagers, business men and their families — all the local people are out enjoying the colorful gaiety of an amusement park. Such begins the vocal music department's presentation of Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Carousel," as well as the romance between a young girl and a barker on a carousel. Though the death of the barker brings the romance to a tragic halt, the musical ends on an optimistic note fifteen years later with his daughter graduating and reaching maturity.

With a new ADMINISTRATION this year, students, teachers, and the administration itself had many adjustments to make. Principal Gene Arvin was new to the school system and to Stillwater while the assistant principals, Gerald Mastin and L.D. Green, had previous experience in the Stillwater schools. All of the administrators tried to promote better relations within the school by setting reasonable standards and policies for students to follow. Although faced with 1450 students, the administration made a commendable effort to work with each one on an individual basis.

The BOARD OF EDUCATION is the organization behind the functioning school, a group of individuals who meet once a month to act upon the demands of the people and schools. This year, along with the Student Council, they solved an important problem by revising the dress code for the high school. The school board also began an intensive investigation into the drug problem that exists throughout the school system.

Wesley W. Beck, Jr. — Assistant Superintendent

Gene Pingleton — Superintendent of Schools, Gilbert Criswell, W.L. Simank, John P. Weilmuenster, James E. Baker, Robert M. Farmer, Marion S. Smith, Miner C. Hall — Board members

Ila Whitsel — Payroll Clerk, Lois Furgason — Secretary, Ray Hickey — Claims Clerk

Calvin McEntire — Director of Media Development — Larry Thomas, Director of Research and Evaluation

James R. Sanders — Assistant Superintendent for Business Management

Euphemia Griffith — Typing and Shorthand

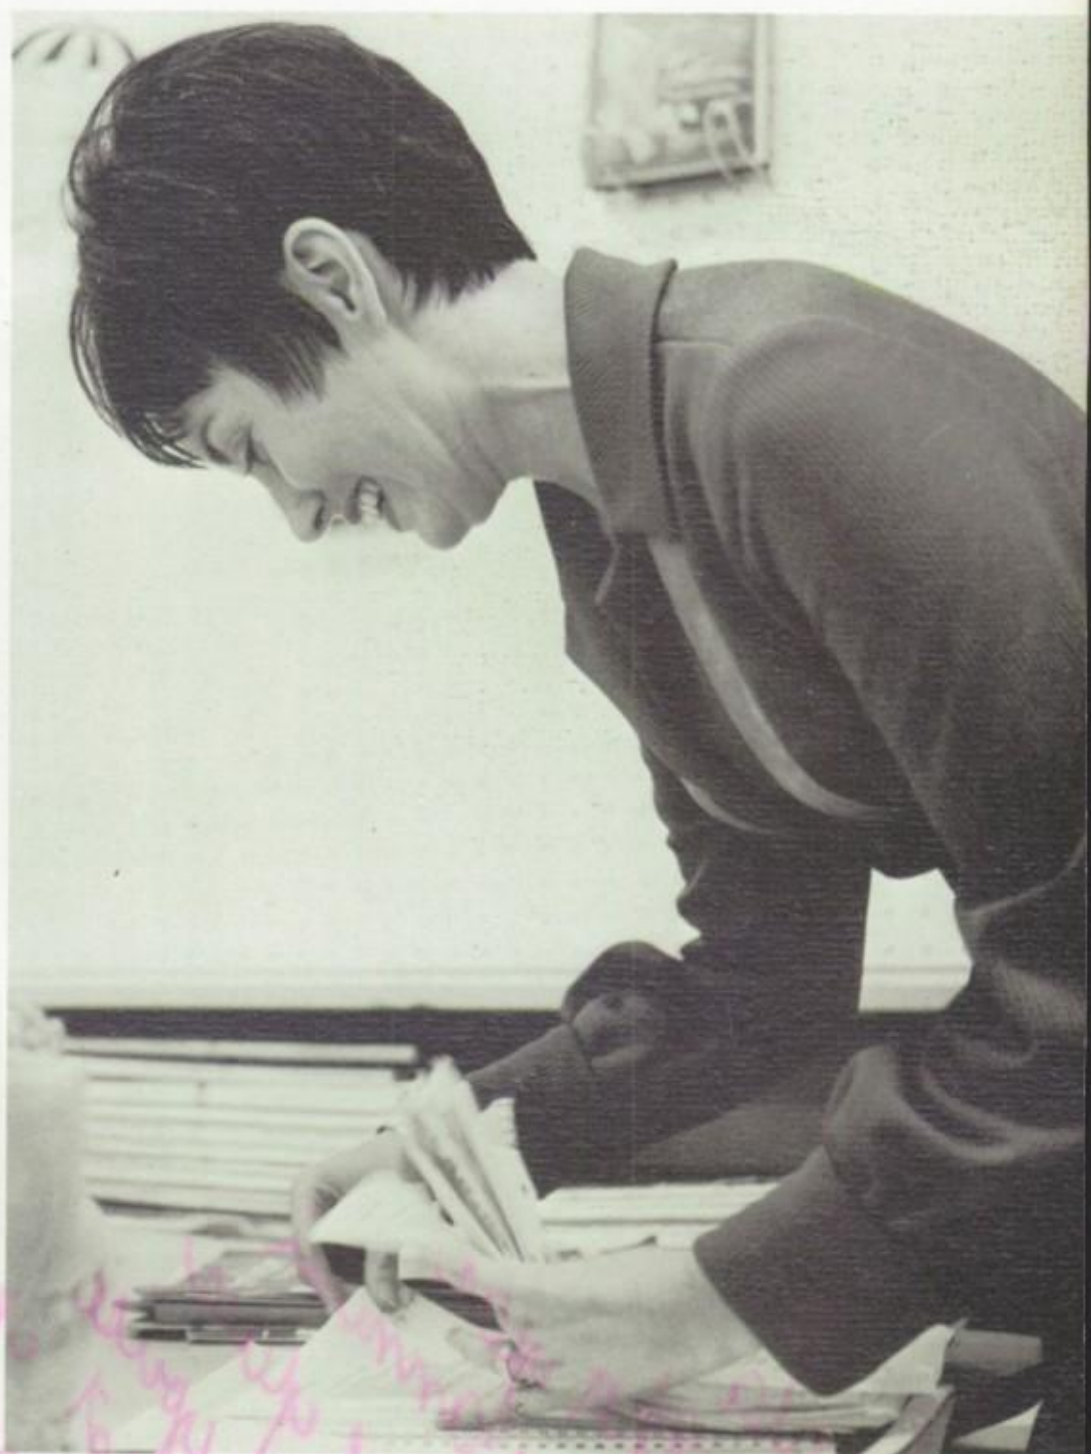

Skills and knowledge valuable to the students' everyday life and their future are taught in the many classes offered in the BUSINESS DEPARTMENT. Courses such as typing allow students to gain this practical ability for their own use. Though many and seemingly varied, all business courses are related in one way — preparing the student for a vocation.

Janetta Loper — Bookkeeping and Typing

Mariuse Green — Business Education and Business Law

Sandra Andrew — Economics and Problems of American Democracy — Student Council sponsor

Handwritten pink notes:
 The first step in the process of the business plan is to determine the market for the product or service. This involves identifying the target market and understanding their needs and wants. The next step is to develop a marketing strategy that will reach the target market and persuade them to purchase the product or service. This involves choosing the right advertising and promotion methods and determining the budget for the marketing campaign. The final step is to implement the marketing strategy and monitor the results. This involves tracking sales and customer feedback and making adjustments as needed.

Students felt a change in the LANGUAGE ARTS DEPARTMENT as the new English Mini-Course System was introduced and put into use this year on a trial basis. A wide variety of subjects including such new courses as Black Studies, World Literature, and Modern Poetry helped to provide students with a little freedom in choosing subjects that appeal to them. Teachers also felt a change, as they experienced teaching many different subjects to classes composed of students of various grade levels together. Other classes such as Debate, Speech, and Journalism also strived to carry out the goal of the Language Arts Department — to enable students to express themselves and to appreciate those who have.

Since several students felt a need to continue their language study, Russian III was added to the curriculum of the FOREIGN LANGUAGE

DEPARTMENT this year. As always, the foreign language teachers worked to create interest in other countries by instilling in the students a greater understanding of the people, their customs and way of life as well as their language and its origin.

Glennis Desbien — French I and English

Ellen Benharbit — French I,II,III, and IV — French Club and French National Honor sponsor

Mary Stockton — Spanish I, II, and III — Spanish Club sponsor

The FINE ARTS DEPARTMENT includes four years of art, four bands, orchestra, and vocal music groups. These classes provide a break in a tough schedule and an outlet for emotions, creativity, anxieties, energies, and talents. Teachers of the Fine Arts strive to make their classes something more than an "easy credit." They show how to blend voices into a chorus or blend colors into a shade, how to turn a song into music or turn a lump of clay into a sculpture. By stressing technique and theory, they demonstrate the significance of music or art as a means of expression.

Betty Fryrear — Art II, III, and IV

Charles Hall — Freshman Band

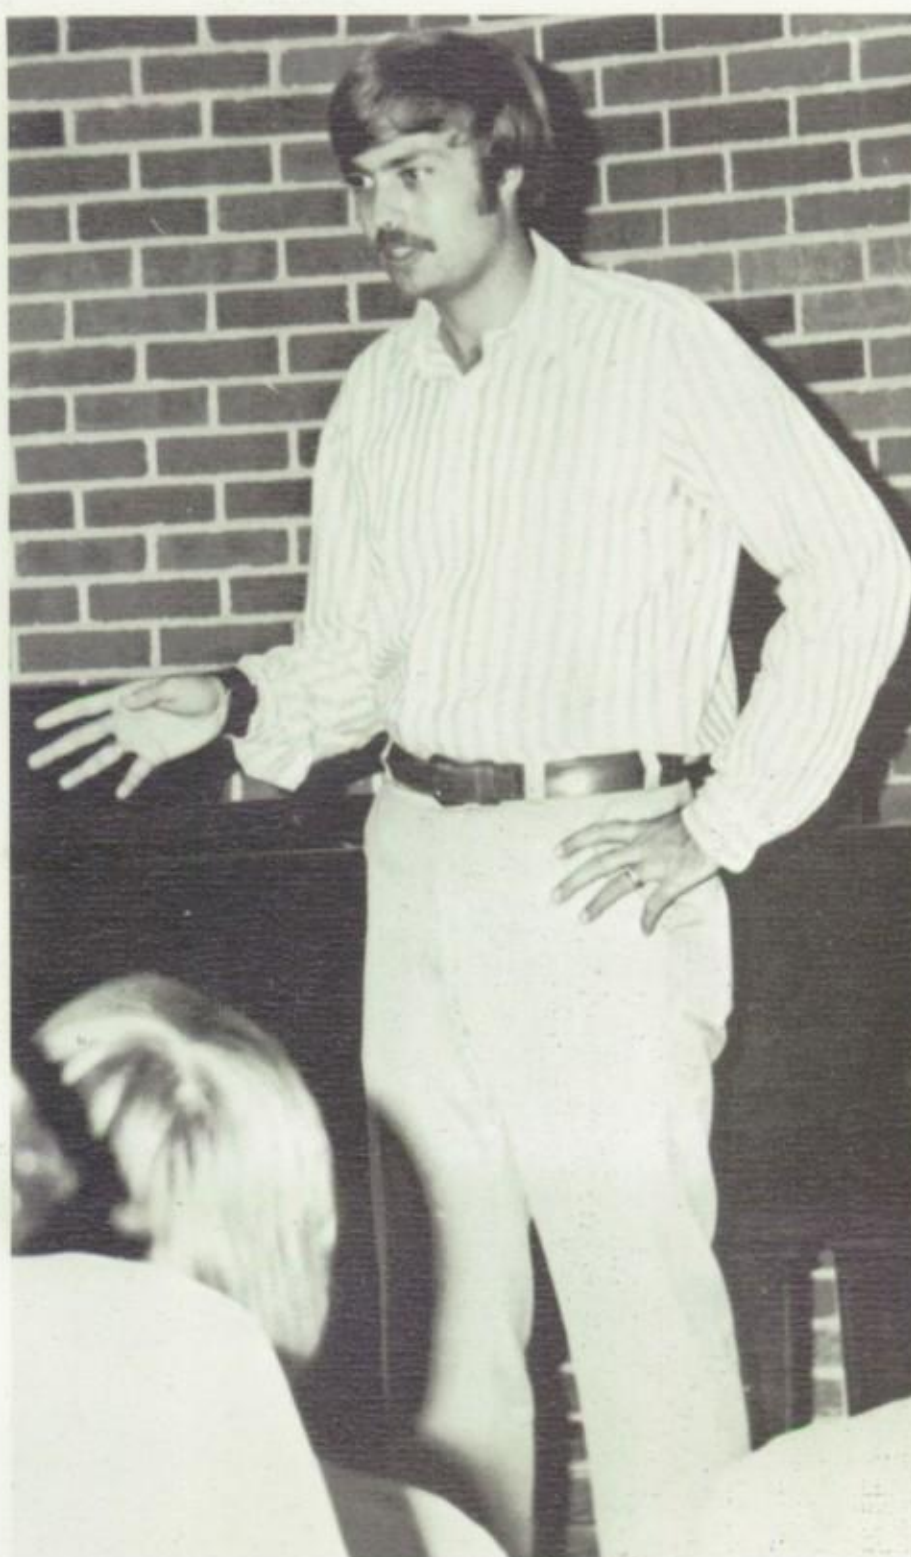

David Heid — Orchestra

Donna Pauler — Art I

Shadra Hogan — Music Theory and Freshman Chorus

Coach Steve Maison — Mixed Chorus, Concert Choir, and Madrigal — La Musica sponsor

Ray Hunt — High School Band

People with inquisitive minds, with a knack for logical and abstract thinking — these are the teachers that form the MATH DEPARTMENT. A number of courses from General Math to Calculus make up the broad program of studies available.

By helping the students to question and solve problems with acquired knowledge and by showing them how to appreciate and understand the role of math in our lives today, these teachers open the door to a world of complex challenges through numbers.

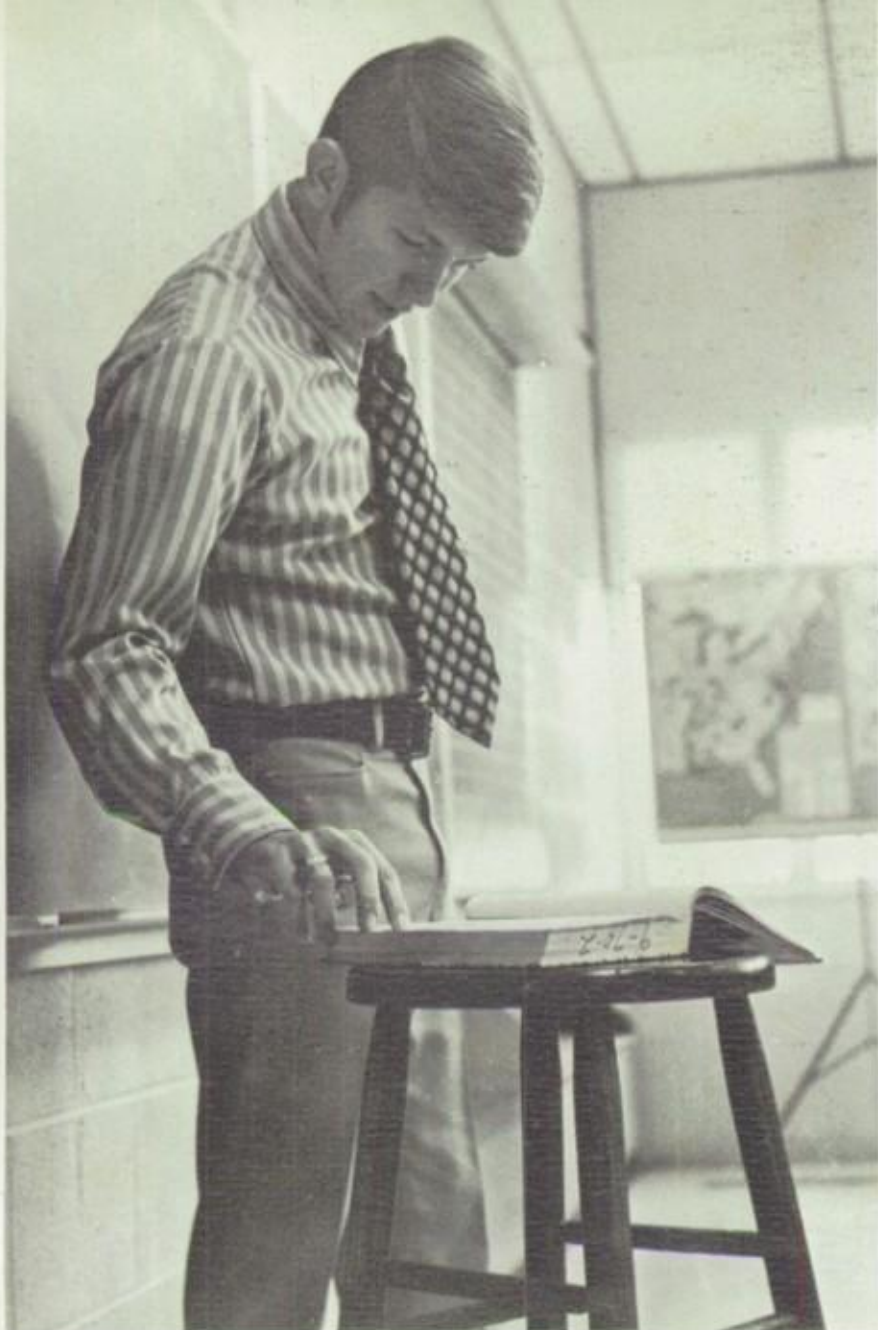

Pamela Keys — Trigonometry and Advanced Math — Mu Alpha Theta sponsor

Wanda Frick — General Math and Geometry

Judy Fila — General Math and Algebra I

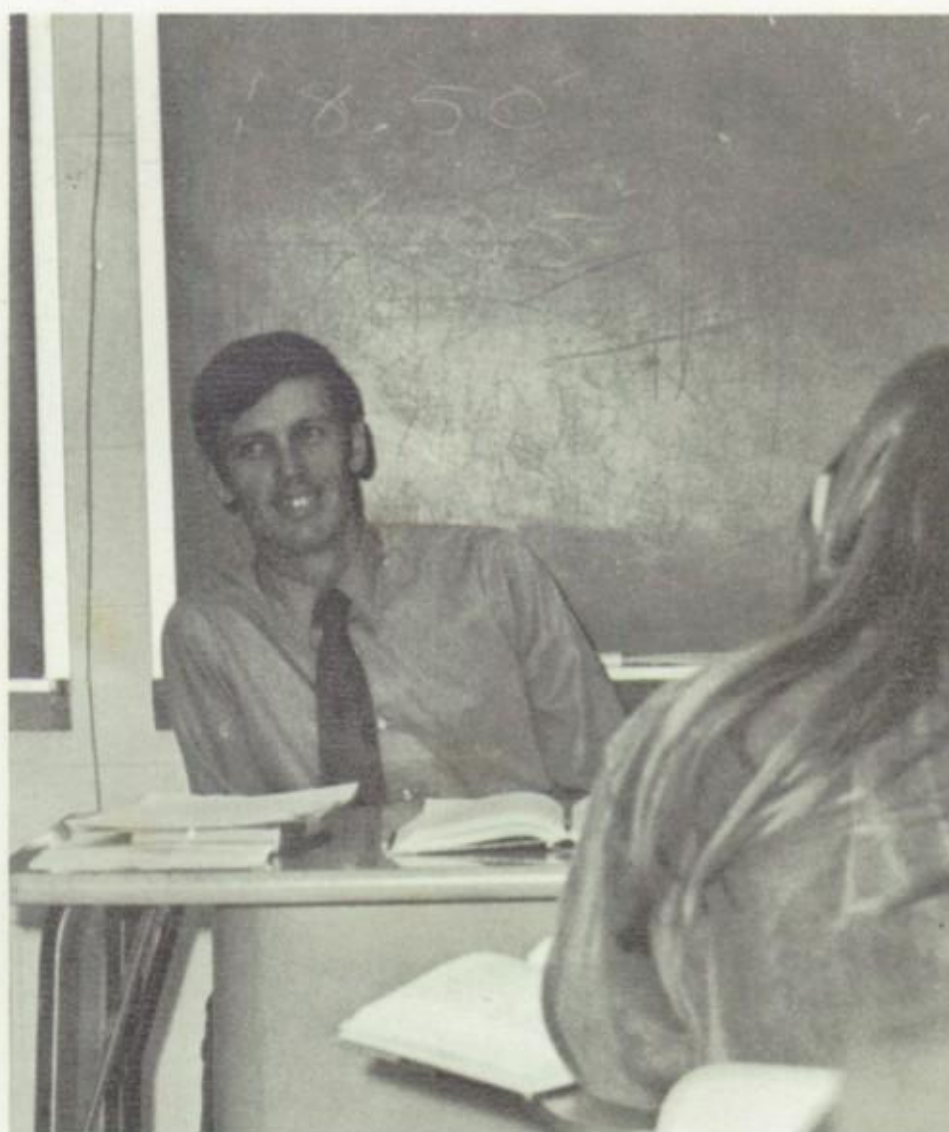

Richard Lampe — Geometry and Algebra II

E.M. Schmidt — General Math and Algebra II

Lois Mayo — Algebra I and Chemistry I

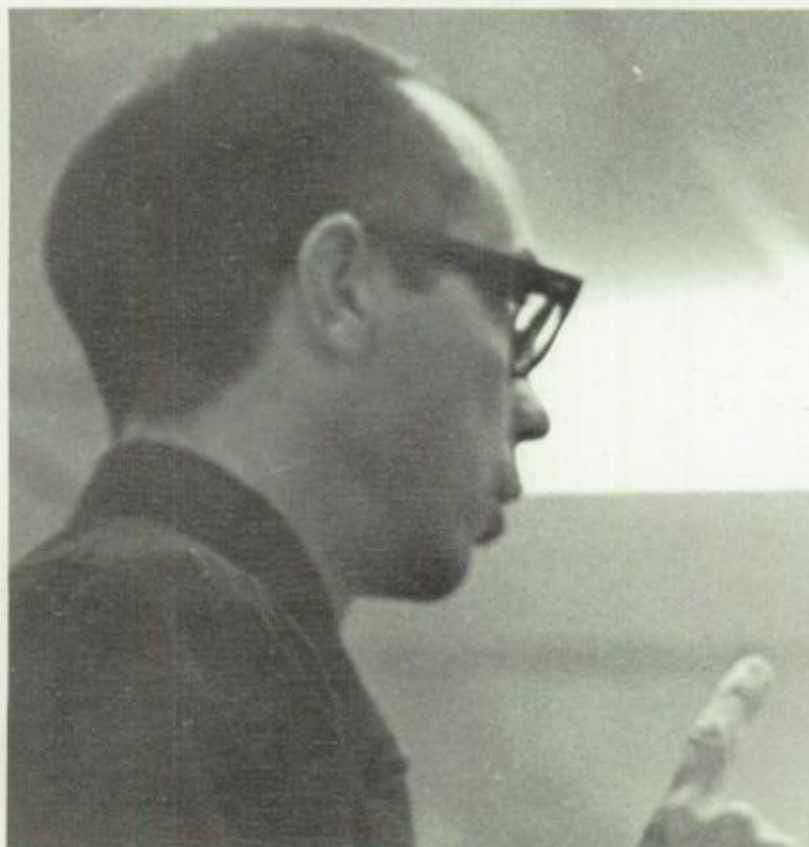

Mike Gadberry — Business Math, General Math, and Study Hall — Raider Football coach

The SCIENCE DEPARTMENT challenges the student with seven different courses, from Earth Science to Physics. Starting with basic facts and theories and progressing to all types of simple and complex laboratory procedures, the members of this department stress learning by experimentation. With such tools as petri dishes, microscopes, slide rules, test tubes, chemicals, and specimens, they emphasize individual exploration and develop in the student an interest and awareness of the scientific aspects of the world around them.

Russell "Bugs" Martin — BSCS Biology

Virgil Nichols — Chemistry I and II and Physics — Tennis coach

Sue Kincaid — Earth Science

Jim Mosteller — Physiology and Psychology —
Gymnastics Coach

Joan Oden — Earth Science, BSCS Biology, and Study Hall

Don Bell — Biology

Jess Witt — Physical Science and Study Hall — Science Club

By helping students to understand man's journey from his beginning to the present, and his many successes and failures along the way, the SOCIAL STUDIES DEPARTMENT prepared tomorrow's leaders to cope with the problems of a changing society in a confused world. The teachers helped students develop an awareness of their government in association with man's culture and economy. They created interest in current issues by urging students to write Congressmen and by inviting Dewey Bartlett and other speakers to discuss such issues as the Vietnam war and the 18-year-old vote.

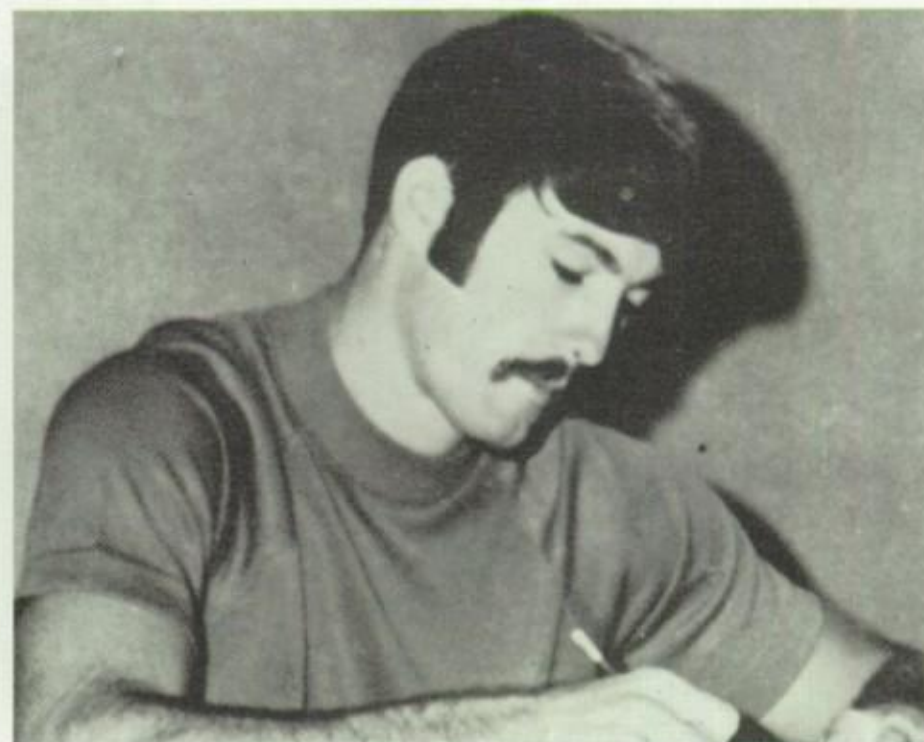

Lee Brower — Oklahoma History, Civics, and World History — Football, Baseball coach

Ron Disel — Oklahoma History and Civics — Basketball, Track, and Football coach, S Club sponsor

Tom Turvey — Oklahoma History and Civics — Athletic Director and Football coach

Dennis Crowe — Oklahoma History and Civics — Cross Country and Wrestling coach

Frank Banfield — American History, P.E., Physiology, Psychology — Football coach

Bob Satterfield — American History

Preparing students for specialized work after graduation is an important part of the educational process. The VOCATIONAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT provides invaluable experience to such students, where brainwork and handiwork act together to develop new skills. These teachers show students the importance of practical thinking and practical skills, and help them find a useful place for themselves in an interdependent community.

DE, COE, and CVE are special classes that enable students to leave the classroom and actually enter into the business world. CVE is a new class designed to fill the gap left by DE and COE, giving students a wider variety of job opportunities.

Carl Frank — Vocational Agriculture and Farm Mechanics — FFA sponsor

Fern Green — Cooperative Office Education — FBLA sponsor

Robert LeFebvre — Woodworking I and II

Dale Weathers — Carpentry I and II — VICA sponsor

The SPECIAL SERVICES DEPARTMENT consists of members of the faculty who aid the student in and out of the classroom. Some teach the courses which complete the school's curriculum, such as P.E., Driver's Ed., Special Ed., Learning Development, and Reading. Other members help students as well as teachers outside the classroom — teachers' aides, librarians, and cooks. All of these people offer special services which we could not easily get along without.

Charla,
It's been a fun year, hasn't it? I'm glad I've known ya for a year & your friends. I'm gonna miss everyone but I'll be long my next year. Remember of everyone me stay football games and you the band person & me at marching (yuck!) season. Remember remember play time we went to the gym. Remember all to the all the good-lookin' guys we all had the love. I hope ya like my letter.
Most of all I just remember all the good times I had all the things!

*Work out O.K.
 Sell, all I've got to say now is have a lot and fun this summer (F&G DOM!)
 and have a last next year! (boss all them freshmen!) When I move you better write to me + tell everybody else
 I see you + miss this summer + school next year.

Where will you find yourself in a year or two?

Join the Air Force and you will find yourself doing a great job at an exciting duty station. That's because the Air Force gives you the chance to learn a skill, and the chance for foreign travel. Just two of the reasons thousands of young men and women enlist each year.

Whatever your goals are, Air Force training and travel can take you a long way toward getting your future off the ground.

CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's how to work it:

AXYDLBAAXR

is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. (answer on page 240)

We didn't have to man classes together where we could talk to each other maybe we will year. Have fun this summer
See ya next year
Until then?
Candy

As children we all played individual games, but we played them together. We laughed, we cried, we hoped, and despaired. We discovered the game couldn't always be won, but we had to play — no quitting allowed.

Instead, we move to other games with different players and different rules. Maybe someday soon we'll find the game we can live with.

We're coming to the end of the board, but not the end of the game, for . . .

. . . Only you and I can help the sun to rise each morning. If we don't it may drench itself out in sorrow.

Joan Baez

Charla,
I enjoyed English and Biology this year - especially Biology because we had more 'liberties' (as leaving early) (ha) I enjoyed going to the show and to the carnivals with you, Sue and Gary.
Thank you, I write in this picture because I hope your future will move and prosper as fast as the clouds move in the sky. I hope we can have a class that together next year - that might be the last time I see you - Lots of luck and happiness forever

SPRING

BASEBALL — A team of 9 — working for solely one thing — victory. Power and precision are required for this game. Pressure mounts — will I get a hit? Will I make it to home? All right. Three up, three down. Have we won?

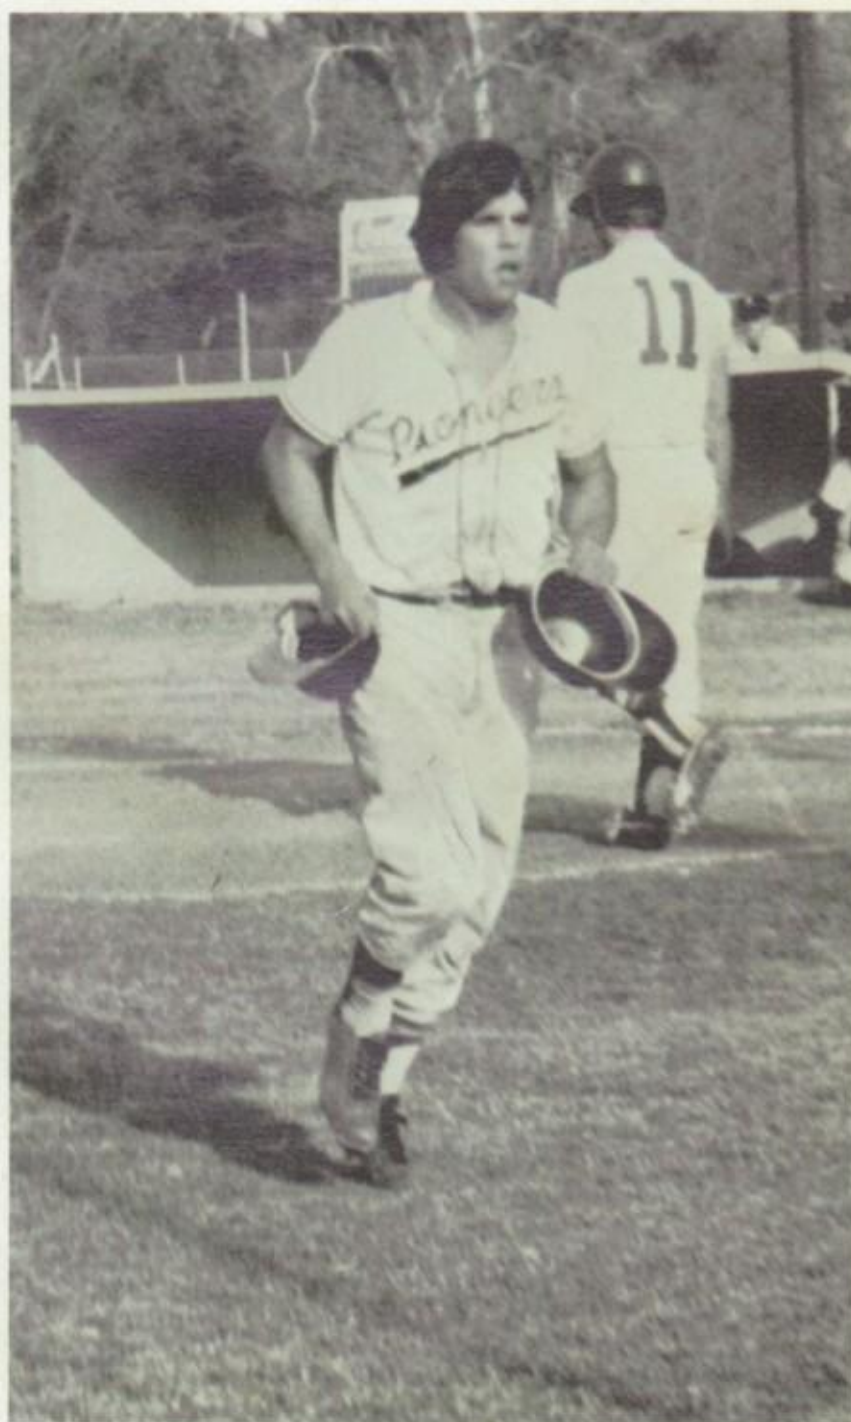

Gary Platt heads home for the winning run in a game against Sand Springs.

Mike Sloan easily steals third base in a game against Blackwell.

Baseball Team — Kneeling: K. Grounds, S. Longworth, B. Newcomer, S. Hall, R. Deal, M. Sloan, F. Wyatt, D. Wick, M. Boyles, G. Platt. Standing: L. Brower, R. Nichols, L. Noller, R. Houston, D. Coakley, T. Duff, K. Ehlers, S. Akins, J. Martin, D. Crowe.

Mark Boyles heads for the dugout after scoring a run.

TRACK — Time and length — our only opponent. I have to defeat this opponent for us to win. I must give it all that I have. Long hours on the road, sweat, and determination bring us victory — or defeat.

Steve Kelly crosses the finishing line.

Ford Mastin clears the hurdles easily.

State Qualifiers — Kneeling: R. Teague, F. Mastin, D. Seward. Standing: R. Disel, M. Myers, S. Kelly, D. Armstrong.

GOLF — Thwack! Oh, - - -. In the trees. Do I have enough stick? All right, on the green finally. Long hours of practice, dedication, and team spirit bring victories. A final record of 11-2. Not bad!!! Good breaks and bad breaks — you have to accept both.

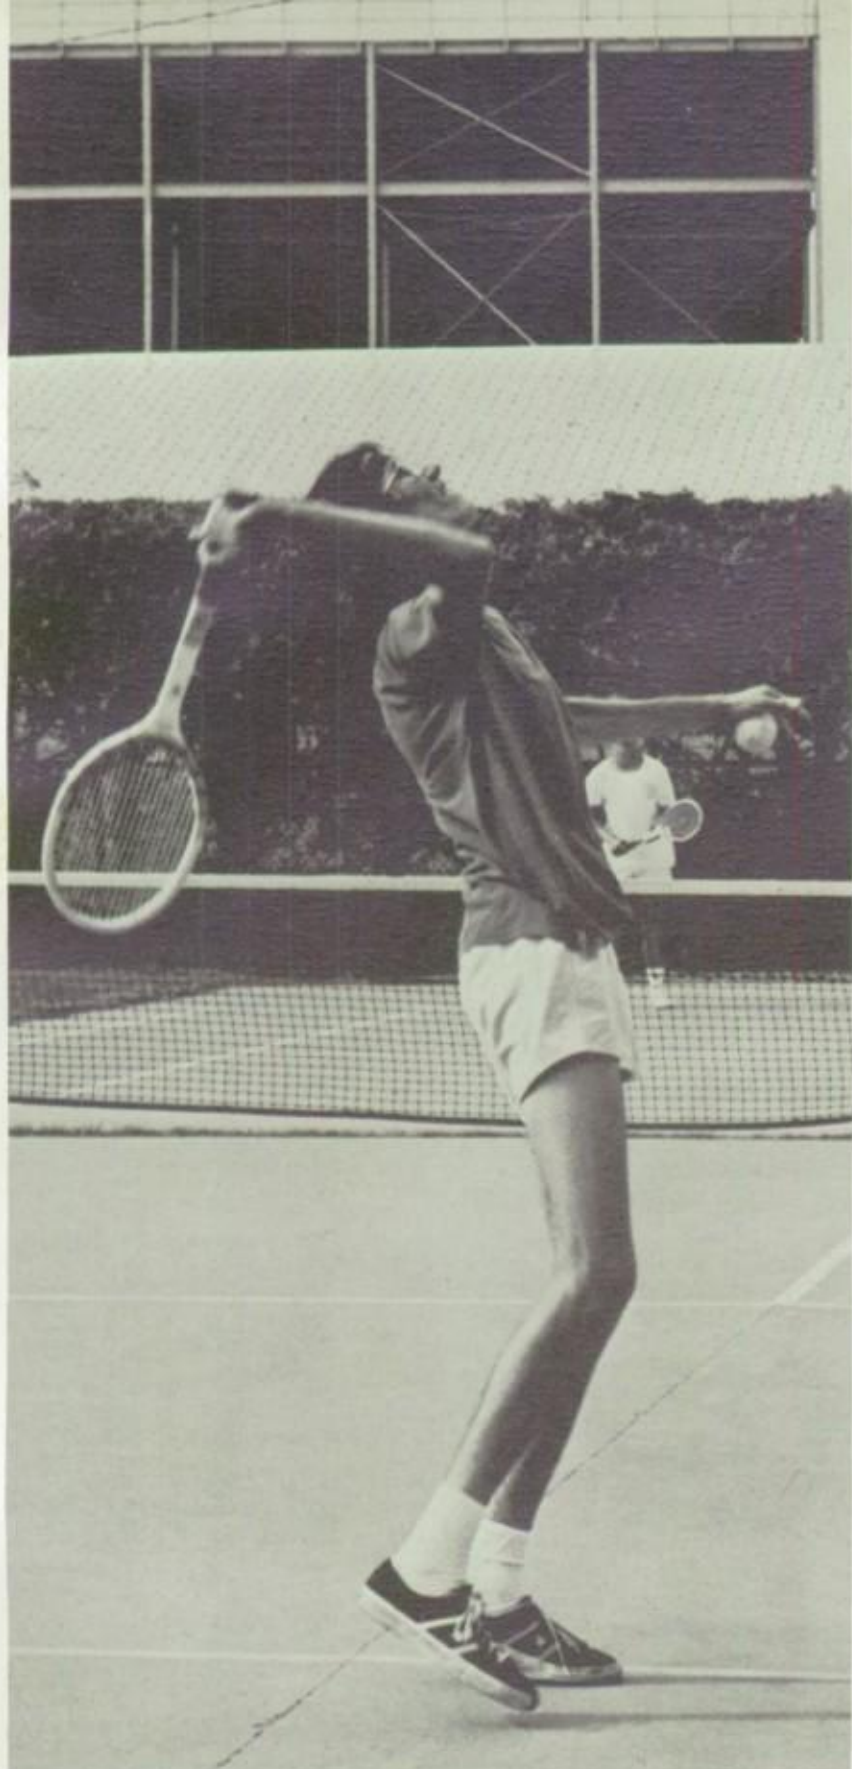

Regional champ Pat Connell.

Robbie Barnes tees off on number one tee in a dual match against Ponca City.

Golf Team — Kneeling: P. Connell, B. Dunn, B. Stevens, R. Roberts. Standing: J. Hobbs, J. McDonald, B. Hoke, D. Plaxico, F. Simank, R. Chapel. Not Pictured: R. Barnes.

TENNIS — Game point. The pressure is on. I have to ace this one to win the set and for to win the match. Not much support, but we finally made it to state. Victories from all 3A schools. Losses from some tough 4A schools. Many young players and a new coach. Getting better year by year.

Mike Dobson serves to an opponent in a dual match here on the college courts.

Tennis — M. Dobson, B. Reynolds, T. Tripp, M. Sanford, E. Denman, M. Tavakoli, M. Jobe.

"One o'clock, two o'clock, three o'clock rock, four o'clock . . ." The musical strains of this swinging tune were heard throughout the courtyard on Fifties Day, one of the highlights of the school year. Ponytailed and slicked-back students, dressed in the attire of the 50's, jitterbugged to the cool sounds of Frankie, Elvis, and the Sparkplugs. Spring elections were also a major part of the Spring Activities. Among these were the elections for next year's cheerleaders and Student Council officers; it might be mentioned that only 244 people took advantage of their opportunity to elect their leaders.

Several bands, including the Righteous Bluegrass, twanged their way into the hearts of students during the groovy outdoor Bluegrass Festival. Far-out.

Up, up, and away!

"If you want to be happy by day or by night, it's Diane Nicklas for president!"

"Hey babe, let's bop on over to the malt shop tonight."

"Jeepers, creepers, where'd you get those peepers . . ."

Stalactites hung from the ceiling as students jived to the beat of the swinging B.D. and the Hotlinks at the traditional Junior-Senior Prom. Decorated to resemble the inside of a cave, the room reflected the theme of "Gime Shelter." Clothing styles had become less formal; few tuxes were worn, and many girls went casual in halter or backless dresses. The OSU pool was the scene of an after-party where students splashed around in the pulsating, invigorating, exhausting, satisfying chlorine water.

"If I ever see ivy again . . ."

Hey Bob, where'd you get the tan?

"I got the feeling, uh!"

"It's 10 a.m. — do you know where your children are?"

The graduates celebrate by throwing marshmallows at the platform guests.

The staff thanks Bill Fisher and Jeff Moseley for photography assistance.
